Russia Spurns West's Disarm Formula

Soviets Seen Setting Stage To Quit Talks

Western Powers Accused Of Lying And Evading Issues

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Soviet Russia rejected the West's newest disarmament proposals today. The Soviet claim to possession of a world-ranging rocket missile was followed promptly by Russian charges the West is preparing for war and torpedoing the London arms talks.

The tone of a Kremlin statement laid before the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee by Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin suggested the Russians may be ready to walk out.

Accusing the Western powers of evading issues and lying, Russia turned down Western terms for both a two-year ban on nuclear weapon testing and for the latest version of President Eisenhower's open skies inspection plan to guard against sneak attacks.

Reds Say Parley Deadlocked

Though Western diplomats had considered both proposals as moves toward a compromise, Zorin said Russia regards the five-month-old parley as having reached a state of deadlock.

On orders from Moscow, he demanded that Asian, African and Latin-American countries be admitted to the conference to change what he called its "present narrow and one-sided composition." With Russia on the subcommittee are the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

Western delegates deplored the tone of Zorin's 90-minute declaration and said it showed increasing rigidity from the Soviet side.

Only last night the Soviet Union broadcast the claim that it had successfully fired the first Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, "showing it is possible to direct rockets to any part of the world."

"Contribution To Peace"

Though skepticism laced Western comment concerning Soviet possession of this ultimate weapon, Radio Moscow declared "the new scientific achievement is a big and valuable contribution to peace."

The Soviet announcement was declared to have caused confusion in the Pentagon, which has intermediate range missiles, but has disclosed none in the 5,000-mile intercontinental range class. The Moscow radio said the announcement should "cool off those hot-heads who, like Gen. Lauris Norstad, planned to attack the U.S.S.R. from four sides."

Norstad, an American, commands NATO forces in Europe.

Sixth Fleet Shore Call Plans Cancelled

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Navy tonight ordered powerful units of the 6th Fleet to remain at sea in the Mediterranean for the time being. It has cancelled previous plans for vessels and crews to visit ports on the French Riviera.

The Navy left the whereabouts of the fleet shrouded in strict secrecy and refused to say why the long planned shore calls had been postponed.

In response to the inquiries, the Navy said only that units of the 6th Fleet are presently operating in the Mediterranean "on a training mission" in preparation for joint North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercises.

The 6th Fleet left Mediterranean ports Aug. 17 for long-planned exercises in an area which the Navy freely identified as the western Mediterranean. Major phases of those maneuvers were scheduled to have been completed yesterday.

Proxmire Wins Over Kohler In Wis. Election

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27 (AP)—William E. Proxmire scored an upset tonight as he defeated former GOP Gov. Walter J. Kohler in a special election for the U. S. Senate. He is the first Democrat the state has elected to the Senate since 1932.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27 (AP)—William Proxmire took a commanding lead over Republican former Gov. Walter J. Kohler in returns from today's special election and appeared, if the trend continues, well on his way to becoming the first Democrat elected to the U. S. Senate from Wisconsin in 25 years.

Proxmire himself termed his mounting margin over the three-time former governor "a protest vote against the Eisenhower administration."

Returns from 2,304 of the state's 3,361 precincts—including 51 of 663 in Milwaukee County, where Proxmire's lead continued to grow—gave:

Proxmire	235,731
Kohler	177,213

Proxmire, who was beaten by Kohler in two gubernatorial races, took a lead at the start of the vote count and gradually added to it in upstate Wisconsin. The early returns were almost exclusively from rural communities, including several areas where Kohler previously had beaten Proxmire. In many of these sections Proxmire led.

A victory for Proxmire would be considered an upset because the state has not sent a Democrat to the Senate since the 1932 Roosevelt landslide.

Proxmire has been in Wisconsin only about 10 years and has campaigned indefatigably for a statewide office on three previous occasions.

The election is for the remaining 16 months of the term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Hoffa, AFL-CIO Target, Vows To Remain In Race

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—James R. Hoffa today became the target of charges by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee. The Midwest chief of the Teamsters Union responded with a vow to continue his campaign for the Teamsters presidency.

The Ethical Practices group did not make public its charges against Hoffa—the first aimed at him by the big labor federation. It said, however, they were based primarily on hearings of the special Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa was accused by the Senate committee of consorting with racketeers to expand his union power, making a questionable loan of $50,000 to a harness track, and borrowing $89,500 from Teamster subordinates and employers bargaining with the union.

The Teamster vice president testified last week before the senators. He finally was dismissed

House Votes Safeguards For FBI Data

Legislation Backed By Administration Approved 350-17

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Legislation to safeguard FBI files in court trials sailed through the House today in the form the administration wants.

The roll-call vote was 351-17. A congressional compromise still must be worked out, since the Senate passed a somewhat different bill last night. The Justice Department promptly tagged the Senate version unacceptable on grounds of "serious defects."

The House sided with the department. And it refused to heed a protest that J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI put undue pressure and propaganda behind the administration measure.

Offsets Court Ruling

The legislation in both branches is aimed at meeting effects of a June 3 Supreme Court decision, in the case of former labor leader Clinton E. Jencks. Backers of the legislation say it is necessary to prevent defense attorneys from foraging at will through secret FBI files.

The Supreme Court held that a defendant in a criminal case is entitled to examine any relevant information which a prosecution witness previously has given the FBI. Since then, lower courts have been widely varying interpretations of what this means in the way of throwing open FBI files. Congress stepped in to meet what Atty. Gen. Brownell has called a "grave emergency in law enforcement" because of the extent to which some lower courts were ordering the production of FBI records.

"Propaganda" Charged

The administration bill is designed to set up restrictions and guidelines. The House accepted it overwhelmingly although Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the Judiciary Committee said the FBI and Hoover had put out "great waves of propaganda" and pressure in an attempt to influence legislation.

The differences in the Senate and House bills are in technicalities and legal knots which probably are more important to the lawyers and courts than anyone else.

New Draft Exam For Deaf Printer

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—A new physical examination has been scheduled for Gerald K. Hanson, 22, a deaf printer apparently drafted by mistake. Hanson is employed as a printer on the Fowlerville (Mich.) Weekly Review. He was classified 1A after a previous examination and ordered to report for active duty Sept. 1. But Richard Rudnicki, publisher of the paper, protested that a mistake had been made.

"He couldn't hear a cannon if it were fired 10 feet from him," Rudnicki said.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said Hanson had been scheduled for another examination at Ft. Wayne in Detroit on Friday. Hanson's induction is being delayed pending results of the second exam.

Senate Approves Aid Bill

On Winning Side In Rights Fight

Three congressmen who helped lead the successful fight for passage of the compromise civil rights bill yesterday in the House congratulate each other. Left to right are Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), Rep. Ray Madden (D-Ind.) and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY). The House passed the measure by a 279-97 vote.

Chances Fade For Postal Rate Hike This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Any chance of postal rate increases this year practically disappeared today when the Senate Post Office Committee halted hearings on the legislation.

Chairman Johnston (D-SC) said that in view of the adjournment rush he didn't see how the committee could meet any more during this session of Congress. Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), the senior Republican on the committee, agreed.

The postal rate bill is not dead, however. It has been passed by the House and can be considered by the Senate next year in the second session of the 85th Congress.

The committee had begun to take testimony today from newspaper and magazine executives and other users of second class mail who are opposed to the legislation. But it was forced to suspend its hearing when the Senate refused to consent to continue while that body was in session.

Carlson suggested the committee hold additional hearings in November and December and try to get a bill out early in the next session, which begins in January. Johnston indicated he would go along with this idea.

The House bill is aimed at an eventual increase of 521 million dollars a year in postal revenues.

It would raise the first class letter rate from 3 cents to 4 cents and add a penny to the 6-cent-aunce air mail rate. Second class rates would be increased 60 per cent in four 15 per cent jumps. Third class rates, applying mostly to advertising material, would be boosted from 1½ cents a piece to 2½ cents.

Planes "Bomb" China

TAIPEI, Aug. 27 (AP)—Nationalist planes dumped millions of leaflets and more than 80 tons of useful articles on five Red Chinese provinces last night, air force headquarters reported. It said items included combs, underwear, toothpaste, socks and cloth. The planes returned to Formosa safely.

Dulles Disputes Red Boast ICBM Makes Air Force Obsolete

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today challenged Russia's claim that a new Soviet intercontinental missile has suddenly outdated the powerful American Strategic Air Force.

He told a news conference there is "no feeling" that development of such super long-range rockets would make America's fleet of jet bombers obsolete.

Dulles spoke out in commenting on Radio Moscow's announcement yesterday which claimed the Russians have successfully tested the world's first intercontinental missile.

The huge Russian rocket, Moscow contended, will "make it possible to reach remote areas without resorting to a strategic air force, which at the present time is vulnerable to up-to-date means of anti-aircraft defense."

In answering questions, Dulles said he had no particular reason to doubt the truth of the Russian report because past Soviet claims in this field have had some supporting fact.

The government's far-flung intelligence agencies are carefully checking the Soviet claim.

But, he said, even if it is true he has no reason to think that "initially it will affect the military balance of power" between the Communist and free world.

Dulles said gains by leftist forces in Syria during the past two weeks in his view are more important reasons for continuing foreign aid than Russian missile successes.

"But they all go to show," he added, "that we face a formidable threat and the importance of maintaining a adequate mutual common defense against it."

Dulles concentrated his remarks on disputing Moscow's boast that the missile achievement in effect outdated the American Air Force. Challenging this, Dulles said:

"Indeed, many people think for a long time to come the Strategic Air Force will be the most effective way of conveying the missile to its target."

All Quiet As Negro First Graders Enroll With White Pupils At Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 27 (AP)—A scattered handful of Negro first graders enrolled with white pupils at Nashville schools today as the city took its first step toward a desegregated school system.

The orderly registration here mirrored the scene 200 miles eastward, where Clinton High School began its second year of integrated operation with a quiet day of freshman enrollment.

School records here showed 13 Negro pupils registered with 272 white first graders at five previously all-white schools, and one white pupil enrolled at a formerly all-Negro school.

Earlier, School Supt. W. A. Bass predicted there would be about 126 out of about 1,400 Negro first graders eligible to attend white schools for the first time. Officials expected about 2,000 white six-year-olds.

At Clinton, two Negro freshmen registered, and it appeared that eight Negro pupils will attend integrated classes beginning Sept. 1. Principal W. D. Human, who said he anticipates a year without incident, reported three of last year's Negro students preregistered in the spring. And the five said they expected three more Negroes to join them.

Occasionally jeering teen-agers drove past the school in cars, jibing at newsmen and photographers, whom they expected to go home.

In Nashville, officials were un-animously in their praise of the orderly registration for first graders. Asst. School Supt. W. H. Oli-

$3.6 Billion Satisfactory To President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The $3,692,710,000 foreign aid bill won easy passage in the Senate today, 62-25.

The bill, providing $500,900,000 more than the House voted and described as satisfactory to President Eisenhower, enjoyed support from both the Democratic and Republican Senate leaders.

Just before final passage, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) proposed that the amount for military aid in the bill be held to the House figure of $1,250,000,000 instead of increasing it to $1,475,000,000 as the Senate Appropriations Committee recommended.

Opposition Collapses

Ellender lost 59-28 and the opposition then collapsed. Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) had planned to seek roll call votes on two other committee amendments raising the House figures, but decided not to go ahead in view of the topheavy vote against Ellender.

The appropriation is now scheduled to go to a Senate-House conference for adjustment of the different figures. A compromise about halfway between the House sum of $3,191,810,000 and the Senate's $3,692,710,000 seemed likely. Both figures include new and re-appropriated money.

The closing Senate debate sounded familiar themes—backers saying that foreign aid contributes vitally to America's security, and critics charging that it is only a dole to countries that ought to take care of their own needs.

Eisenhower Satisfied

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said after a call on President Eisenhower that the President is well satisfied with the Senate committee action of yesterday adding $500,900,000 to the amount voted by the House.

The $3,692,710,000-committee figure compared with Eisenhower's original request for $4,440,000,000. Both these totals included new money and reappropriations of unspent aid funds from previous years.

Pleading for support of the committee action, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, told the Senate the international situation "might get better—and we hope it will—but it might get worse."

Dulles Revises Red Press Stand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is prepared to consider permitting one or more newsmen from Red China to come to the United States.

His statement modified the State Department's previous position on this issue, which was to keep them out.

Referring to Red China's demand for reciprocal treatment if American reporters are to enter that country, Dulles declared "any time any application is made for a U. S. visa, it will be considered on its merits."

His discussion of the issue at a news conference opened the possibility that at least by indirect action the United States might yet engage in some kind of bargaining to clear the way for 24 American reporters to visit the Chinese mainland from which Americans have been barred seven years.

He said he was "delighted and proud of the Nashville people." Police Chief D. E. Hosse said "things were mighty quiet, and we still don't anticipate trouble."

Segregationists, including John Kasper, convicted of stirring up violence at Clinton, limited their activity to distributing anti-integration literature in front of schools expecting Negro registrants.

One of them, Willie Meador, 25, told newsmen he was working "as a volunteer. They can't jail a man for volunteering. I'm with Kasper."

Officials predicted only one Negro child would be eligible to enroll at the school where he stationed himself, but Meador replied, "If that one registers, when I go back and turn in that report, it'll mean war."

Senate Balks Dixie Move To Kill Measure

Motion To Shelve Compromise Fails On 66-18 Roll Call

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The House speedily passed the compromise civil rights bill today 279-97 and the Senate a few hours later overwhelmingly defeated a move to shunt the measure to its Judiciary Committee.

On the Senate roll call the vote was 66-18.

The Senate vote came after a flurry of Southern attacks on the compromise version.

When the bill was called up in the Senate tonight, Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) put in a surprise motion to send it to the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.).

Many of its supporters construed this as an effort to kill the measure at least for this session.

Leaders of both parties were taken by surprise by the Thurmond motion. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), supporting the motion, asked the leaders to put a decision on it off until tomorrow.

Johnson Irked

But Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas asked for the roll call tonight, saying he had told all senators in Washington to return to the Senate chamber for the vote.

Johnson said with some asperity he had not even been given the courtesy of advance notice of the motion, something he said the majority leader generally was considered entitled to receive.

Johnson, a supporter of the bill, had planned to signal for Senate debate on it beginning tomorrow morning.

If the Senate approves the measure, as it is expected to later in the week, Congress will have passed its first basic civil rights legislation in 82 years.

In the Senate the question was not so much whether the bill would be passed as when it would be. Action on civil rights is the key to adjournment.

No Filibuster Expected

Southern senators opposed to legislation said they expect to make their opposition clear (a euphemism for long speeches) but indicated there will be no filibuster against passage this week. Some Southerners had been holding out for a filibuster but apparently decided they could not muster the numerical strength to talk the bill to death.

The measure falls far short of what President Eisenhower asked for in the way of civil rights legislation but appears to be the most that could be done this year. Its principal section would empower the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions against any violation of voting rights or any threatened violation.

Senate Passes Pay Hike Bills; Veto Expected

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Senate late today passed and sent to President Eisenhower two bills raising the pay of 1½ million federal employees—but Republican leaders said both would be vetoed.

One bill, passed 69-17, would boost the pay of 518,000 postal workers by $546 each a year at an annual cost of 317 million dollars. The other, passed 64-22, would raise the salaries of one million classified Civil Service employees, as well as congressional and judicial workers, by 11 per cent. The annual cost of this would be 532 millions.

The House had passed both measures earlier in the session by votes far above the two-thirds margin necessary to override a veto, just as did the Senate.

But this was considered an academic question, since Eisenhower was expected to pocket veto them after the lawmakers leave town. Some Republican sources said privately that bills with smaller increases are likely to be approved next session, particularly if Congress passes a postal rate increase measure.

Postal employees got an 8.6 per cent pay increase in 1955, while the classified workers received about 7½ per cent the same year.

The Senate voted first on the postal pay bill. Eisenhower has opposed general pay boosts for federal workers at this time on grounds they would be inflationary.

Surgeon General Says: Expected Epidemic Of Asiatic Flu Will Be Relatively Mild

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (P)—The United States surgeon general said today the expected epidemic of Asiatic flu will be mild on individuals but could be serious for communities.

The official Dr. Leroy E. Burney, made the statement at a meeting of state health officers called together in view of the epidemic threat.

Burney mentioned the plans for a special vaccine and other preventive steps.

"This is the first time in history," he said, "that a country has been able to take such preliminary steps in advance of a possible epidemic of influenza."

The vaccine, described as 70 per cent effective, is expected to be available first to doctors and others who tend the sick, policemen and others in vital occupations.

Burney said that if the disease should be concentrated among certain occupations, "this could present a problem in the maintenance of essential community services."

Sixty million doses of the vaccine are expected to be available by next January or February, but flu usually hits hardest in the late fall or early winter. Burney has estimated that as many as 26 million people might catch the disease.

But he said today "Even if an epidemic should develop, if present trends continue, the 10 to 20 per cent of the people who might contract Asian influenza would have a relatively mild illness, with symptoms which are commonplace accompaniments of many everyday illnesses."

Burney said he hopes that by Thursday an additional 1,200,000 doses of the vaccine will be released, bringing the August total to more than 1,700,000. Originally, none had been expected before September.

Vaccine Protects High Percentage, Test Discloses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (P)—A test of the new Asian flu vaccine was reported today to demonstrate that it protects a high percentage of persons against the disease, though not all.

The test was carried out on volunteer inmates of the Patuxent Institution at Jessup, Md.

It was reported on by Dr. Justin M. Andrews of the National Institutes of Health, at a meeting of state health officers called together because of the threat of an epidemic of Asian flu.

This was the first public report of a human test. Dr. Andrews said the volunteers were given the vaccine and then were injected several weeks later with live virus of the flu strain.

Syrians Flying To Soviet Union For Pact Talks

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 27 (P)—A three-man delegation flew to Moscow today to iron out details of what Syria calls a preliminary economic agreement with the Soviet Union.

(The flight of the Syrian delegation so soon after disclosure of the agreement on Aug. 6 led to the observation by Westerners in Moscow that the Kremlin had worked with unprecedented speed in winding up technical examination of the cost and scope of the promised aid. The report from Moscow said the Syrian delegation may make the terms of the agreement final.)

The Syrian government said the agreement would not be formalized until it is approved by the cabinet in Damascus.

The announcement of the delegation's mission, led by the development council director, Hassan Jbara, said it will discuss with the Kremlin proposed projects in Syria and the approximate overall costs.

As described in a joint Syria-Soviet communique, the agreement calls for Russia to provide tools, equipment, machinery and technicians for Syrian projects. These projects include development of the port of Latakia and construction of dams and railways.

Meanwhile, Salah Tarazi, secretary-general of the Syrian foreign ministry, met with the Turkish minister in Syria to "exchange information about the situation in Turkey."

Asked if this meant the two would discuss the visit to Turkey of U.S. trouble-shooter Loy Henderson, Tarazi replied, "Maybe."

In Washington, President Eisenhower took up the Syrian situation with Republican congressional leaders at his usual Tuesday morning conference. Afterward, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said the President gave a frank report and that the over-all picture was serious.

Secretary of State Dulles said progress made by the Soviets in Syria constituted a threat to the free world.

He told a Washington news conference that large supplies of Communist arms made Syria a military threat to her neighbors and that they are genuinely worried.

Boycott Continued By White Students

COLP, Ill., Aug. 27 (P)—White pupils boycotted a previously all-Negro grade school again today in a protest over integration.

None of an estimated 40 white pupils in the school district showed up for the start of the fall semester yesterday and they remained away from classes today. There was no demonstration.

Eighteen of the white children enrolled in the nearby Cartersville grade school and will pay an annual tuition of $200.

A reporter who asked Mayor Frank Caliper where the other white children would attend school was told "it is none of your business." It was a matter that concerned only Colp residents, the mayor said.

McCarty said he visited his sister and brother the past Saturday at the Baptist Children's Home near Nashville, and left, later seeing them walking along a highway. He brought them to Philadelphia where they were taken into custody. (AP Photofax)

Coal Research Bill Advances

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (P)—Legislation to establish a federal coal research and development commission reached the House today.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Saylor (R-Pa.), sponsor of a resolution which created a special House Coal Research subcommittee.

Saylor's bill embodies the recommendations of the committee which last week completed its report after a 15-month study of industry problems.

Saylor said he expects no further action by Congress in this session.

"My bill merely implements the subcommittee recommendations," he said. "In all probability I will propose supplemental legislation at the next session of Congress."

The commission would be composed of three members, appointed by the president and serving three year terms.

It would work with the Bureau of Mines and other institutions in getting up a research program for the production, distribution and utilization of bituminous and anthracite coal.

In its report, the committee noted that compared to some other industries—oil, chemical and textile—there is a relatively small amount of research done in the coal industry.

Boston Merchant Prince Succumbs

MARSTONS MILLS, Mass., Aug. 27 (P)—Lincoln Filene, Boston merchant prince and last of an era of famous retailers, died today in his 93rd year.

He retired only a few months ago from his chairmanship of the Federated Department Stores, an organization of great retail stores reaching across the country. While president of William Filene's Sons Co., in Boston, he had been a leader in setting up the federation, in which Filene's was a cornerstone.

Filene's, now billed as the "World's Largest Specialty Store," was founded by Filene's father and taken over by Filene and his brother Edward. They built it into a huge city store with multiple suburban branches and shopping centers.

Russia's Rocket Claim Shakes Western Europe

LONDON, Aug. 27 (P)—Western Europe was shaken today by the Soviet Union's claim it has developed a super intercontinental rocket but there was skepticism that the rocket is as good as the Russians say.

Skepticism was reinforced when Moscow followed up its claim by a fierce blast against the West in U.N. disarmament talks here and rejected Western proposals for a two-year suspension of nuclear tests and an air and ground inspection system.

From the first there was suspicion in Western capitals that the rocket announcement was timed for its effect on the disarmament talks.

The British Cabinet discussed the latest development in the arms race though Prime Minister Macmillan had called the meeting before the Moscow rocket announcement.

Highly placed sources said American and British military leaders believe the Soviet missile is still far from the mass-production stage.

A British Ministry of Defense spokesman said: "The statement by the Russians that a launching has been carried out does not necessarily mean that they are yet in sight of an operational weapon, but we must expect continued progress."

"It will be noted that the Russian statement is studiously vague on such matters as the altitude and range of the missile and the size of the target area."

Safety WITH CONCRETE

The National System of Interstate and Defense Highways will save an estimated 3,500 lives a year. That's because it's designed for safety. To make the most of this chance for safer highways in this state, these roads should be paved for safety—with concrete.

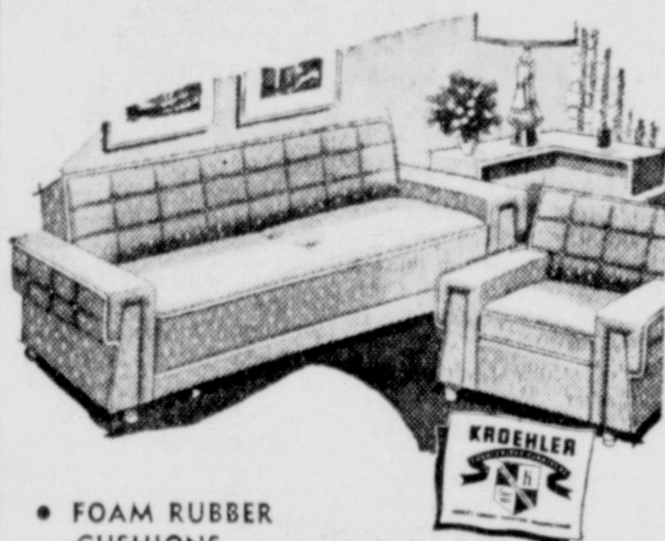

Rigid concrete doesn't soften—it doesn't ripple and washboard under traffic. Its low crown doesn't interfere with steering. Its gritty-textured surface grips tires for safe, sure stops, even in the rain and its lighter color greatly improves visibility at night. You drive in comfort and confidence over the safest, smoothest-riding surface that highway engineers know how to build—today's new concrete roads.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (INS) — John Foster Dulles does not want U. S. newsmen to enter and report from China. He fought the proposal from the moment the first request was made. He seems to have succeeded in continuing to fight it while appearing to support it.

There was a wide editorial approval of the State Department's announcement of last Friday that 24 newsmen would be permitted to go into China for a 7-month period. The department had at least seen the light, the average editorial read. They were heavily larded with "the peoples' right to know," and "this is the end of a policy based on what we didn't know about an enemy wouldn't hurt us."

The Red Chinese then replied—quite correctly, I think — that it wanted no part of our working stiff. The State Department had carefully set the stage for such a rebuff by stating that under no circumstance would it permit Red Chinese news people to enter the U. S. on a reciprocal basis.

It was simply a matter of time before the government of Mao Tse Tung replied in a gruff manner. Red China is feeling its muscles. It has come to believe, as has its people, that it beat the tar out of us and the free world in Korea.

To have accepted such an unilateral arrangement as Dulles would have forced on it would have resulted in a serious loss of face for the Peiping government. This, I'm sure, Dulles took into account. He has made the noble gesture in the direction of U. S. news media and, at the same time, arranged for the frustration of its news-gathering plans.

In time, one supposes, the State Department will yield in its obstinate view and let a few Chinese reporters come in as well as let our people go there. It is preposterous not to know what is happening — except through propaganda channels — in a nation so jammed with human life that it accounts for one in every four people in the world.

The world would hardly have known of the pitiless repression of the Hungarian freedom fighters by Soviet Union forces if there had been no free reporting from Red Hungary. It would know little of the U.S.S.R., and Poland, Czechoslovakia, and the others.

Right now, Dulles apparently has the same suspicion of the gullibility of the average U. S. foreign correspondent that Pat Hurley had when he was our ambassador to Nationalist China.

A fierce young man from Time magazine approached Gen. Hurley in Chungking in 1945, when the official State Department policy was to try to get the Chinese Red "agrarians" more representation in Chiang Kai Shek's government, and asked permission to journey to Yunnan to do some stories about Mao Tse Tung and other gentle Chinese "farmers." Pat said no.

"If I let you go up north you'll write a lot of sentimental hogwash about those fellows," Pat said. "We've invested a billion or two in Chiang Kai Shek. Why should I help you undermine him?"

The young man from Time grew very angry. He shook his fist under Pat's elegant nose and said to the veteran of a thousand political massacres, "I'll get you for this!"

Pat stroked his silver mustache in a bemused way and said, "Son, what you say reminds me of the story of a tough old guy we had, down in the Red River valley.

"One day a new tough fellow came into town, took a look at our old tough fellow, and told him to get out of town — or else he'd shoot our fellow right through the head with his new .38. Now our old tough fellow had been shot through the head four times with .45, so he looked at the new tough fellow and said, 'Boy, if you shoot me through the head with that thing you got in your hand, AND I HEAR ABOUT IT, things are going to be mighty unhealthy for you around here!'"

There's a good chance that the man from Time, and the others who were refused when they tried to get to Yunnan, could have told the people of the U. S. the truth — that the Communists were out to devour our friend Chiang. That they did, while still known here mainly as agrarians. That they did.

It's better to know your enemy, but Mr. Dulles is not convinced.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Too Trite In The Seat

While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is Ernie Kovacs.

Mr. Crosby is one of those vacationing sadists who refuses to leave the guest with a subject. "Oh, pick a subject," he mumbled as he threw eight bathing suits for his children and some aspirin for himself into some thing brown which he zipped.

Once I was fortunately able to nominate Helen Hart for an Academy Award for her having amassed the largest collection of toasters, badminton sets and card tables in the country by the simple expedient of not discarding cigarette coupons. Today I would like to eulogize another on the American scene who, too, has lain slightly by the wayside of our entertainment media.

Although the salute is solo, I hope others will awake from their hispid lethargies to join in happy throng and dip color to my nominee for a better place in the carbon-arc sun.

I speak not without pained effort of control over brimming emotion, of the actor in the movies who, in the midst, at the end, or sometimes in the beginning of the dance rehearsal of the big musical, runs out, smartly clasps his hands together like a cadet whose father has stock in West Point, and says, "Okay kids, that's all for today. Be on stage in rehearsal clothes at eight in the morning."

Longevity of career in motion pictures or television is a thing devoutly to be desired. To have achieved it with the simple fabric of one deathless line is most commendable. Our nominee has uttered this solid prose from Ruby Keeler through Caligula to Novak. The apparent sameness of his work must be cast from your minds when we observe the fact that in slack season he is the actor who (aided by a hardly commentarial mount of makeup) also proclaims, "Not go that part jungle," "Simba bad," and "Me see big white bird." This is not a plea for a man who made a place for himself in the business through an executive parent or by politics. In contemplating your eulogy, it is solid to remember that he began simply with the now immortal "Inspector Chan wants everyone in the library at midnight standing exactly as they were when Lady Feldman was bolder to cubes."

To have been jostled aside by Key Luke for cinematic centuries in itself is worthy of our praise for him but from there to have risen to the "Okay kids" category is achievement to stand in awe of.

It would have been simple for the man not willing to undergo many hours of solitary study to have fallen into the medical pictures. You have seen those who have so fallen, listlessly, lippping "She's conscious now and she's asking for you." (The only occasional relief to this is when the patient was male in which case the line had to be re-memorized. "He is conscious now and asking for you." The "you" in either case is neuter.) And the others of that ilk. "Get plenty of hot water and towels." "She will never dance again." (Or in pictures staged by happier-minded directors, "She will dance again.") This has a variant in comedy films: "Will I ever play the violin again?" In this instance the line is a "straight" line and is followed by "Well, I couldn't play the violin before the accident" or "That's funny, I used to play the kazoo." (Jew's harp or ocarina are acceptable substitutes.)

birds to the strident virility of "Head 'em off at the pass" stereotypes) are more subtle than we realize. It is somewhat like plinking a reclining mallard to point the finger of exposure at them. So it is not with these lines that we commiserate, but with those person whose larynxes are Edgar Bergen'd by writers. Some-

20 D.C. Area High School Students Trying To Help Solve Defense Problems

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—A score of high school students with a scientific bent are trying to help solve some of the nation's chief military and civil defense problems.

The youngsters, all from the Washington, D. C. area, are working with the Operations Research Office of Johns Hopkins University. ORO headquarters are located at Chevy Chase, Md. It is an Army contract organization administered by Hopkins.

Purpose of the student program is to interest young people in science at an early age.

Having scratched their heads over civil defense problems in the burgeoning Washington area last year, the fledgling scientists are branching out in their ambitious studies this year.

Last year the 11 students in the program concluded that only 330,000 of the estimated 1,677,000 persons in the greater Washington area would survive a nuclear attack. That conclusion was based on existing shelter facilities.

Coordinator for this year's program, Jean Taylor, explains that the 20 students are divided into four groups.

As a followup to last year's project, one group was told "to find out what effect two weeks spent sheltered in a hole in the ground will have on Mr. Average American Citizen."

Fortunately, the boys and girls—usually running around outside during the summer vacation—didn't have to hole themselves up for two weeks—nor even an hour. They do most of their work through paper research.

The second group is studying how many shelters would be needed to protect the District's population and where these should be built.

More ambitious, though, is the assignment given to the other two units. They're trying to determine how to locate and neutralize enemy machine gun fire pinning down front line troops. This is the type of problem usually reserved for such well schooled Army testing centers as Fort Monmouth, N. J., or Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

For this phase, the "machine gun group" got some on the spot research. They visited Fort Monmouth, where the Army Signal Corps demonstrated weapon locators.

The 20 students include 10 seniors, eight juniors and two sophomores. They attend Bethesda-Chevy Chase and Montgomery Blair High Schools in Maryland and Wilson High School and Coolidge High in Washington. Four of last year's students are research group leaders.

Bailey's Daughter Dies

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 27 (AP)—Mrs. George Clendenen, 34, daughter of Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey and Mrs. Bailey of Clarksville and Charleston, died yesterday at her home in Chicago.

Mrs. Clendenen had been in the hospital for one week. Until her fatal illness, she was employed as an instructor-supervisor by International Business Machines Corp.

"Million Dollar Rain" Features Md. Crop Report

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—"Rains came."

The Maryland crop summary for the past week issued today was that simple. But it meant that farmers salvaged probably thousands of dollars.

The rains which came down really good on Sunday broke the two-month drought. And providentially, they fell heaviest where they could do the most good—on the lower Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland.

The survey by agriculture experts found the water benefitted especially soybeans, sweet potatoes, peppers, late snap and lima beans, strawberry plants, hay and pastures and late corn.

Southern Maryland farmers already have harvested one quarter of their crops.

The dry and cool weather has cut down on the size of apples and peaches. The peak harvest of peaches began this week in Western Maryland. The late apple harvest is due to start in about three weeks.

'Open' School Regulations Cause Concern

ROCKVILLE, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—School officials expressed fear today their classrooms may be turned into combination bridge parlors, dancing schools and social halls.

The Montgomery County Board of Education last night studied proposed new regulations that would open school buildings in evenings to any group that could muster the signatures of 25 residents.

As a result, one school official said a Bethesda bridge club is considering holding its sessions in a school building.

Board members envisioned school buildings packed with dancing and music classes and various social functions during the evening hours.

The board withheld action on the regulations. Such use of school buildings was held down last year when the board imposed fees. But the Maryland attorney general has ruled out the fee system.

Under the new regulations, only a janitor's fee would have to be paid.

Home Builder Offers High Bid For Woodward Estate

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—The Belair estate of the late William Woodward, a stud farm for some of the nation's finest thoroughbreds, appears destined to become a residential development.

William J. Levitt of Levittown, Pa., builder of housing developments bearing his name in Pennsylvania and New York, submitted the high bid today of $1,750,000 for the 2,226-acre estate near Bowie.

The offer requires the approval of Circuit Judge Charles Marbury. A previous proposal was thrown out by Marbury, necessitating today's second bid opening in Prince Georges County Circuit Court.

Woodward was shot to death accidentally two years ago by his wife in their Long Island Mansion. Mrs. Woodward said she mistook her husband for a burglar.

After today's bid opening, Levitt said he plans to build about 6,000 houses on the estate that once was the home of such Woodward horses as Nashua and Gallant Fox.

Two other bids were submitted—$1,329,000 by Duran Realty Co. and $1,425,000 by the New York firm of Webb & Knapp.

Webb & Knapp submitted the high bid of $1,167,000 in the first bid opening last Oct. 10.

New Steam Coal Mine Construction Approved

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates of Boston announced today trustees have approved construction of a new, large capacity steam coal mine in the Fairmont area of northern West Virginia.

The new mine, to be known as Federal No. 2, will be 100 per cent mechanized with continuous mining machines.

Social Security Bureau To Get $28 Million Home

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Social Security Administration said today it will ask for bids early in September on a 28 million dollar new home for its Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance here.

The bureau, now employing some 7,000 persons in parts of 12 buildings scattered throughout the Baltimore area, handles the earning records of some 10 million Americans and pays out about 7 million dollars annually in Social Security benefits.

BOASI's new home, a three unit structure will be the largest office building ever erected in the Baltimore area, will be built at Woodlawn, a Baltimore County suburb west of the city.

Invitations to bidders will go out possibly next week, and bids will be opened by mid-October.

The contract is expected to be awarded by Dec. 1 with construction scheduled to start about a month later, or about Jan. 1, 1958. BOASI officials expect construction to take about two years which would make the building ready for occupancy about the first of 1960.

The building, mostly of glass and glazed brick with granite trim, will have one million square feet of floor space. It will include a conventional 10-story office building to house administrative personnel, a "link" structure and an operations building five stories high.

When completed, all BOASI headquarters operations and personnel will be housed in the structure.

Congress approved in the 1956 appropriations bill an additional $5,170,000 for the building, upping to $31,080,000 the total amount which has been authorized for land, planning and construction.

The building itself will cost 23 million.

Girl Charged With Trying To Run Down Five Cops With Car

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Shirley Ann Dickel, 17, of Lancaster, Pa., was charged by the grand jury today with trying to run down five policemen with her red convertible.

Magistrate Vernon H. Wiesand sent the five criminal charges to the grand jury last Friday.

"I trust that on the Supreme Bench level, they will do psychiatric examination and treatment of this young lady," he said.

Miss Dickel also faces a series of Baltimore traffic charges as a result of a wild chase which ended with a bullet in her shoulder on Aug. 16.

She already has paid off $140 in fines for violations in Baltimore County where the chase started.

Baltimore Negro Held As Book Thief

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—When an apparently well read man phoned for a mover to store three barrels of books, Lorenzo Howell read between the lines.

Howell noticed some of them had the Enoch Pratt Library stamp on their edges, so he notified police.

Police looked over the impressive collection, then charged Robert Dean, 32-year-old Negro, with mutilating, detaining or stealing 35 books from the library, receiving seven stolen books from the Department of Education and larceny of eight books from the YMCA.

Dean, who signs checks "I Am Thee," told officers he likes to read but he'd gotten behind. The books, dealing with such various subjects as electrical wiring and Egyptian grammar, dated back as far as 1954.

Police say Dean is also wanted for allegedly passing three bad checks in January, 1956.

Woman Killed By Car

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—A 62-year-old woman was killed today when she was knocked down by a car while crossing a street.

Miss Martha Silver was dragged several feet by the vehicle, which police said was driven by William L. Harris, 48, Catonsville Negro.

Homemaker Anniversary Planned

The covered dish supper meeting of North Cumberland Homemakers Club held at Constitution Park a recent evening was attended by 48 persons. Mrs. Henry Pyles presided at the business session.

Mrs. Catherine Kilroy was chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Turley, Mrs. Ruth Twigg, Mrs. Joseph Deeter, and Mrs. Madeline Fanelli.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. John House and Mrs. James Mullan. Mrs. Fanelli reported on the home furnishing committee and Mrs. James Mullan on the Fair booth. It was announced that County Achievement Day will be October 27 and all members were invited to take part in activities.

Plans for the club's eighth anniversary banquet were discussed and Mrs. May Alma Margherita was named chairman. She will select the place and date and announce them later.

Games were played.

Family Has Reunion

The seventh annual Ward family reunion was held Sunday at McDonald's Beach, Fort Ashby. All members were present except Mr. and Mrs. James F. Bosley. Mr. Bosley is serving with the Army in Texas. Corinne Smith and Faye Evans were visitors.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Ward and daughter Endalee, Ridgeley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bosley and children, Dale, Joann, Marjorie, Donald Paul, Linda and Janet, Ridgeley; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Ward and daughters, Barbara Ann and Karen Sue, Short Gap; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Fall Styles Have Dual Personality

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

New Fall fashions have a dual personality. By day they are simple, easy and modestly covered-up. By night they go all out in high-voltage allure.

The new daytime suits, costumes, dresses and coats previewed by New York designers are notable for easy fit, handsome fabrics and fur trimmings. The fashions for after-five go in for daring exposures. Favorite in the femme-fatale lineup are slinky dinner and evening gowns in clinging crepe or chiffon, often with necklines slashed to the waist, skirts slashed to the knee or bodices cut out on the sides to show the ribs. The more startling of these have long, tight sleeves for added drama.

For cocktail wear there are glittering dresses embroidered all over in sequins, in the manner of the 1930's. For evening, full length gowns are much in evidence, often trailing the floor in back and cut up in front. Soft, light fabrics are used, clinging to the figure, floating in airy panels, giving life and movement to the silhouette. Even metallic lames and brocades are supple and light-weight, with no stiffness or heaviness anywhere.

The fur-trimmed suit and coat are big news for fall. Even cocktail and evening dresses sometimes appear with fur bordered hemlines. And there are costumes combining fur jacket and coordinated wool dress. As to accessories, fur is first in importance, being used for hats, handbags, belts and scarfs. A striking example of the dramatic use of fur is Maurice Rentner's "suited dress," consisting of simple wool dress and brief matching jacket with huge sailor collar and deep cuffs or ermine.

The all-one-color look also is important for fall, hat, gloves and shoes often being dyed to match exactly the color of the suit or dress.

It's a season of luxurious fabrics, lavish furs, dramatic color and after-dark daring.

Tri State Chapter Gold Star Mothers will hold its annual picnic today in Grove 1 Constitution Park beginning at 4 p. m. All mothers are asked to attend and bring a covered dish.

Jr. Kennel Club Obedience Class Graduation Sept. 3

The Junior Kennel Club's obedience class graduation exercises will be held Tuesday, September 3, at the Fair Grounds. Miss Laura Nickle is teacher of the class. Mrs. Earl Smith will be judge for the final examinations. A silver finished trophy cup will be awarded the four highest scoring dogs. The trophy was donated by Mrs. Robert Nickle, Kent Avenue. Mrs. Tom Rennie, 311 Mt. View Drive, Mrs. Earl Smith, Lonaconing, and Clifford Jefferies, Frostburg. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ware will furnish candy for the rest of the children in the class.

Personals

Mrs. Gustav C. Bahn and children have returned to New Orleans after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Dodge.

Gary Brant, Somerville Avenue, has returned from Wilmore, Ky. He was accompanied here by his brother-in-law and sister, Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Brant and their children, Daniel, David, Stephen and Lois Brant.

Mrs. Russell O. Smith, Flintstone, president of the County Council and an official delegate, and Mrs. T. E. Williamson, LaVale, will be among the 55 Maryland Homemakers to attend the National Home Demonstration Council meeting in Columbus, Ohio, September 8-11.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kuzmick and daughters Margaret Gail and Debbie Lee Brant returned to Baltimore after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Twigg, Winchester Road.

McCoole Teen-Canteen Picnic Today

Members of the McCoole Teen-Canteen will hold a picnic today at Pleasant Valley. A bus will leave the McCoole Fire Hall at 12:30 p. m. and return at 7 p. m. In case of rain, the picnic will be postponed.

RE-ENLIST — Specialist Second Class William T. Dawson of Cumberland (extreme right) is shown re-enlisting in the Army at Fort Gordon, Ga., as Major Edgar A. DeMiller, post recruiting officer, administers the oath. The six men among them have served a total of 51 years in the Army.

Progress On Civil Service Setup Explained To Board

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday gave a report on the work he has completed so far in connection with setting up classifications and schedules for county employees under the Civil Service System.

At one point in the discussion Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson asked if there is a provision against political activity on the part of county employees. He said he had read an article in a local newspaper which stated such activity is not allowed.

Getty looked up the chapter in the law pertaining to such a matter and found that there is no prohibition to such activity. He said the Civil Service System provides that no person can be removed from his position for religious or political opinions or affiliations.

All three commissioners stated they felt that no provisions for excluding political activity should be in the law as every county employee has a right to express his opinions on politics.

Getty then inquired about the status of employees in the County Health Department. He said he had not done anything concerning classification of such workers as he did not know if they came under the provisions of the system.

It was brought out that the county does cover those employees in the group insurance plan and that the county contributes toward their salaries. The state money which goes toward their salary is sent to the county which acts as a distributing agent, according to the board.

The Civil Service System regulations drawn up by Getty will include a provision for three days off for any employee who has a death in his immediate family. They will be paid for the time off.

Getty said the task of compiling the regulations is a monumental one and it will be some time before it is completed so that the board can act on the provisions.

Hospital Ready If Asiatic Flu Strikes Here

Memorial Hospital is preparing in the event the fast spreading Asiatic flu strike this area.

John A. Moberly, superintendent, said yesterday that at a board of governors meeting last night the board approved the purchase of two additional oxygen tents.

The board also approved making available the immunization program against the flu to all employees of the hospital, Moberly said.

Board Receives Protests On Phone Rates

Two more protests have been received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from individuals who are opposed to the proposed telephone rate increase by the C&P Telephone Company. County Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson suggested that Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, draw up a resolution opposing the phone rate increase. No action was taken on the proposal.

B. Fay Thompson, city, wrote the board that during the 20 years he has had a phone he has never called to Flintstone, Ridgeley, McCoole, Barton, or Midland and only four or so times to some of the other points which will be included in the toll-free area under the new proposal.

Thompson has sent copies of his protest to the Public Service Commission, Mayor and City Council of Cumberland and to the phone company.

He ends his letter with the statement that automation (evidently referring to the dial system) is supposed to make a better and cheaper way of life, otherwise it should be thrown on the scrap heap.

Ernest Taschenberger, Oldtown Road, appeared before the board to present his protest. He too stated that he never had called to the area where the toll-free service is planned.

City Opposing Boost In Telephone Rates

The Mayor and Council, by resolution Monday, opposed the proposed rate increase asked by the C&P Telephone Company.

A copy of the resolution is to be forwarded to the secretary of the Public Service Commission. The phone company is asking an average increase of $1 a month and is providing an enlarged "free calling area."

Council requested that the PSC not grant any "unwarranted" increase in rates. It pointed out the phone company has made commendable strides in improving service and in extending free calling service, but, it added, the majority of subscribers will not materially benefit although minimum rates are to be substantially increased.

It urged that the PSC conduct an investigation into the reasons for the rate increase which would "augment the inflationary trend" threatening the economy. It was also pointed out the increase would work a financial hardship. Action was unanimous with Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan questioning the actual worth of the protest if it is merely filed by the commission.

"If the people using phones do not protest, there is nothing we can do," he said, and added, "Where is this going to stop?" referring to the proposed hike.

Copies of letters sent by three local residents to the PSC protesting the rate hike were acknowledged. They came from William E. Kight, 817 Braddock Road; John E. Cooper, 516 Conrad Avenue and B. Fay Thompson, 206 Elder Street.

France was the first big nation to recognize the United States as a world power. This was in 1778.

Protest Of Open Ditch Health Hazard Still Being Discussed

Mrs. Frank White, a spokesman for the Wempe Drive-Oldtown Road group which has been protesting an open ditch health hazard in the area, asked the Mayor and Council yesterday if money had been appropriated for the project.

The group, which has been conducting a week-to-week campaign in behalf of the project, was told by Finance Commissioner John J. Long that Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz has said it is No. 2 on his list for capital improvements if and when money is available.

Asked by Mayor Roy W. Eves if any steps had been taken, Long replied none that he knew of at present. Buchholtz has estimated cost of the project at $90,000.

John J. Mitchell, 118 Winton Place, referring to a recent tour of water facilities at Lake Gordon, praised the Water Department and its employees and cited the need for taxes and improvement bond issues for other projects to make this a progressive city.

Will Provides Scholarship In Chemistry

Three wills were admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court.

The will of Mrs. Julia M. Fowler, who was found dead at her home, 643 Washington Street last Friday, named a sister, Lida M. Fowler, Hopewell Junction, N. Y., and the Liberty Trust Company of Cumberland as executors. Bond of $20,000 was posted by the executors.

Principal bequest was $25,000 to Brown University of Providence, R. I., as the Arthur G. Fowler Memorial Scholarship in Chemistry.

Bequests of $5,000 were left to each of her brothers and sisters, Jeremiah D. Fowler, Hopewell Junction; Lida D. Fowler, Geraldine Wright, of Hopewell Junction; Beatrice Nelson, Binghamton, N. Y., and Claudine Sanford, Providence, R. I.

Cash bequests were also made in a trust set up for the Dutch Reformed Church, Hopewell Junction; National Fund for Infantile Paralysis, the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, American Cancer Society, Father Flanagan's Boys Town in Nebraska and the Crossmore School in Crossmore, N. C.

Emmanuel Episcopal Church was left $5,000.

The will of Nelson W. Russler, local businessman who died August 13, named his widow, Mrs. Florence B. Russler, as executrix and beneficiary.

The will of John L. Trail, city, who died August 16, named his sister-in-law, Gertrude Steward Glosser, 111 Arch Street, as executrix and beneficiary.

Western Maryland Polio Patients Examined Here

Thirty-six Western Maryland polio patients were examined Monday during the first day of the Special Polio Evaluation Clinic under way at the Eagles Home, North Mehanic Street.

More than 60 post-polio attendants of the clinic which ended yesterday.

It is sponsored by the Allegany and Garrett county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in cooperation with the Allegany-Garrett Medical Society.

Staffing the clinic is a team of leading medical specialists which examine each patient and make recommendations for further treatment where additional rehabilitation is possible.

Clinic studies, it was pointed out will not be available for at least two weeks. Medical men in charge say they are very pleased with care which has been furnished polio patients by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

A great deal of the findings are being directed toward social readjustment of patients, particularly young adults. One young man is hopeful of being provided with a collapsing-type wheelchair so he can drive a car and participate in other similar activities. Several others will be entered in one of the National Foundation's respiratory and rehabilitation centers to make them more qualified for certain types of employment.

Four more clinics are scheduled for Maryland and it is estimated about 2,500 polio patients will be examined in the state.

Dr. W. Royce Hodges, local physician, assisted the local clinic evaluation team Monday. The team includes Dr. William Loesser, medical director of the Respiratory and Rehabilitation Center at the University of Buffalo Medical Center; Dr. Florence Mahoney, a physiatrist, and medical director of the Montebello State Hospital in Baltimore; physical therapists Dorothea Barthel also from Montebello, and Margaret Poole of Allegany County. Also assisting at the clinic are John Coburn and Edward Shuck, counselors of the Maryland Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Visitors to the clinic from Allegany County were polio chapter chairman John M. Robb, county March of Dimes director Louis V. Shinnamon and Cumberland March of Dimes director Judge Fred Anderson.

All three March of Dimes officials expressed satisfaction at the success of the clinic and predicted many of the county's polio victims would be helped to a fuller, more useful life as a result of the treatment recommended.

Frostburg area polio patients attending the Cumberland clinic on its first day were Debbie Ann Morgan of Frostburg, Richard Dunn and Sharon Beeman of Mt. Savage, Joyce Winters of Midland, and Kenard McKenzie of Eckhart.

Apples were being grown in Nova Scotia as early as 1635.

GRADUATES — John Bucklew, 619 North Centre Street (second row, second from left) is among this group of six graduates of the Army Food Service School's cooking class No. 48. Motel Owners Plan Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the Maryland Motor Court Association Inc. will be held at 11 a. m. Tuesday, September 3, at Clarysville Inn, near Frostburg.

The association is comprised of motel owners in the state who have organized to promote travel in Maryland and to raise the standards of motel operation. The Maryland group is affiliated with the National American Motor Hotel Association.

The meeting will have a representative of the C&P Telephone Company explaining the company's newest service for motels.

Trained Probation Officer Suggested For County

The Allegany County Welfare Board has recommended that a probation officer with training in social services be named to handle juvenile cases for Juvenile Court.

A letter outlining the situation was sent to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners by Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the Welfare Board.

After some discussion on the proposal, Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, said such an appointment comes under the jurisdiction of the judges of Circuit Court and suggested Mrs. Westerfeld's letter be sent to the court.

Mrs. Westerfeld stated that more than a year ago the Welfare Board agreed to give certain services to the Juvenile Court due to the fact the one probation officer of the court was so overburdened with supervision of individual boys that he did not have time to give additional services even if he had the necessary training.

The Welfare Board agreed that in certain investigations that it would give supervision to girls and women whom the Juvenile Court felt could use probation service rather than having to be committed.

At this time, Mrs. Westerfeld stated, "we find that two of our workers are spending most of their time on juvenile cases."

During the fiscal year ending June 30 the board handled 90 requests for such probation assistance.

Due to the volume of work the welfare agency feels it cannot continue to render such services. It was also mentioned that the number of girls brought before Juvenile Court is considerably less than the number of boys involved and the agency feels that a male probation officer with social work training should be secured and for the present at least also give supervision to boys and girls at the request of Juvenile Court magistrates.

Initial General Campaign Gift Received By Fund

The first gift to the general campaign of the County United Fund is a single, crumpled $1 bill, sent to CUF headquarters by Mrs. Flossie Fazenbaker, a 58-year-old grandmother who for two years has been a multiple sclerosis patient at the Allegany County Infirmary, where she pays her own way out of a small widow's pension.

Her husband, a World War I veteran, died 25 years ago.

A simple note scrawled by a trembling hand accompanied the gift. It was addressed: "Mr. Ort, United Fund, Inc., Cumberland, Md." (Lewis J. Ort is CUF campaign chairman.)

After indicating that she was making a small donation, Mrs. Fazenbaker wrote: "I wish you the best of luck in your good work."

A check at the infirmary revealed that the multiple sclerosis victim is one of the happiest patients there, in spite of the handicap that keeps her bedridden. Attaches said she came to the infirmary with a smile on her face and a great deal of courage in her heart, and that she has never lost either of them. They describe her as a "perfect patient."

The blue-eyed lady, wan from her long confinement, keeps herself busy writing letters to relatives, and gets about two written a day. You can stay happy, she thinks, no matter what your troubles are, if you "keep the faith." She hopes to walk again.

In the past, some of her relatives who live in the Pittsburgh area have contributed in her name to the Multiple Sclerosis Society through the United Fund of Allegheny County, Pa. This of course did not bring any of the society's facilities to her, since she is a Maryland resident, but she says she is happy that someone derived benefits from it.

Born and raised in Garrett County, Mrs. Fazenbaker lived in Westernport for over 30 years, and was living at Potomac Park when she was crippled by multiple sclerosis.

In her letter to the County United Fund she said that she would make further donations—"as I am able."

CUF Campaign Chairman Ort said of Mrs. Fazenbaker's gift: "It is priceless. A million-dollar gift from someone who could afford it would not mean half as much."

Spike Pictured In Flooring Of Highway Bridge

In the belief that one picture is worth a thousand words, a resident of the Wilson Road area sent several snapshots to Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson showing a large spike sticking up from the deck of a small bridge on that roadway.

Commissioner Wilkinson turned the pictures over to the clerk of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the Roads Department to make a check.

Victor Groves, Bowling Avenue in Bowling Green, asked the board to remove a drainage pipe under the avenue in front of his house. He said the pipe drains water onto his property.

The Dead Sea is about 1,300 feet below the Mediterranean.

Six Juveniles Sentenced Here

Five area minors were given hearings in Juvenile Court in connection with a 12-year-old girl, while another youth was given a hearing for participating in a breaking and entering earlier this week near Barrelville.

The boy involved in the breaking and entering was placed on six months probation by Magistrate Anderson. He was apprehended shortly after the entering by Trooper John Sweitzer of the Maryland State Police.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, and Edwin Lilya, Allegany County's investigator, handled the case involving the girl and five boys.

Magistrate Anderson ordered the girl committed to the House of Good Shepherd in Baltimore.

Three of the boys were placed on probation for six months, the fourth who was currently on parole was placed on probation for one year and the fifth who was involved in both the girl case and the breaking and entering was given a one-year parole.

Farm Work Ruling Cited

Maryland farmers hiring workers for the fall harvest were reminded that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits work by children under 16 years of age on farms during school hours.

"The federal law provides children with a priceless commodity—time to go to school," says William Hargadine Jr., regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, the agency which enforces the act.

The child-labor provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Mr. Hargadine pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working in agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parents' farm.

Income Limitation On Pensioned Vets, Survivors Outlined

Failure to report income above the legal limits will be costly to veterans or their survivors receiving pension from the Veterans Administration, according to W. L. Limburg, regional manager of the VA office in Baltimore.

Not only will they be required to return all overpayments from the date their income exceeded the legal limits, but also all regular pension payments back to the first of the year.

However, if the pensioner notifies VA promptly of an income increase above the statutory limits, VA will discontinue the pension as of the last payment and no overpayment of any type will result.

Mr. Limburg said pensions are not payable under law if income exceeds $1,400 a year or $2,700 with dependents.

Since VA has to check the annual income of pensioners every January under the law, any increase above the legal limits from any source other than VA will be discovered at that time.

Scholarships Are Set Up

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 27 (AP)—The West Virginia State Medical Assn. has voted $4,000 in annual scholarships at the state university's new School of Medicine in Morgantown.

The program will be financed through a special assessment of $3 a year upon each member of the association.

The scholarships, which were voted at the association's annual convention in White Sulphur Springs last week, will be provided on the basis of $1,000 annually each for one member of the first, second, third and fourth year classes of the School of Medicine.

The program becomes effective with the fall semester of 1958. The Medical Center at the university is now in process of development. The Basic Sciences Building will be dedicated in October and the general contract for the teaching hospital was let only last week.

Recipients of the medical association awards must be residents of the state and each must agree in writing to practice medicine in a rural community of West Virginia immediately following the completion of his internship.

Wilkinson Opposes New Infirmary Doors

County Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said at yesterday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners that he is opposed to the installation of new entrance doors, frames and transoms at the County Infirmary.

His observation was made while Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, was reading to the board members a copy of a proposed legal advertisement seeking bids for the entrance doors, frames and transoms at the infirmary. No action was taken on the proposal.

Mr. Wilkinson said the county could use such money for other more needed improvements. He stated that the infirmary is only 11 years old and the doors appeared in good shape to him the last time he visited the infirmary.

Asian Flu Vaccine Okayed For Children

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The American Academy of Pediatrics today gave its approval to the new Asian flu vaccine for children but set up special rules.

Dr. Edward C. Curnen Jr., chairman of the academy's committee on the control of infectious diseases, told a meeting of state and territorial health officers that for children under 12 the dosage should be cut and the inoculation should be given in two stages.

8. Veterans should take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes that long for a veteran's first monthly GI check to reach him. The reason is that payments are made only after each month of training completed. Further, before VA may make a payment, it must receive a certification signed by the veteran and his school, stating that he has been in class all month. The law allows VA 20 days after receipt of certification to get checks in the mail.

9. The last point, Mr. Limburg said, is that veterans should not write or send applications to VA Headquarters in Washington. To do so, he said, merely delays matters. The operating offices of VA are the regional offices. Washington headquarters would merely forward the letter or application to the regional office having jurisdiction.

All students taking private music lessons will register on Saturday morning, September 14, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon, in the main hall of the administration building. They will not be permitted to register prior to that day and time.

102 Pints Blood Are Donated In Garrett County

OAKLAND—With the help of 64 walk-ins residents of this area contributed 102 pints of blood at the recent local visit of the Johnstown bloodmobile unit. Twenty of the 64 walk-ins were Amish citizens.

A breakdown of the figures given out by Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the American Red Cross, showed that 97 persons were scheduled and 55 of that number kept their appointments. Forty-five gave for replacements, and 40 persons gave blood for the first time. Seventeen volunteers were rejected.

Mrs. Stemple said the next visit of the bloodmobile to Oakland would be in February.

It had been only two months since the bloodmobile had been in Oakland and some regular donors made no commitment this time.

Addressing the annual meeting of the West Virginia Farm Bureau, Underwood discussed a so-called emergency program of secondary road construction. The financing was provided by transferring 10 million dollars from the primary road fund to the secondary road fund.

"I dislike to drag from the closets ghosts of the past," Underwood said, "but you now have two well-known programs on which to compare figures: This current operation and the 50 million dollar bond issue passed in 1948 and expended over a period of five years."

The governor then offered figures showing that the 50 million dollar bond issue provided improvement of 4,218 miles of secondary roads at a cost of $11,301 per mile over a period of five years, while the new program provides for improving 2,419 miles at an average cost of $4,967 per mile with a completion time in less than one year.

Johnson Speaks At Rotary Meet

FROSTBURG — William H. Johnson, Maryland district forester, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club, Monday evening at Layman's Farm.

Johnson discussed the recreational facilities which have been established in Allegany and Garrett counties by the state.

A total of 27 state owned cottages, 16 at Herrington Manor and 11 at New Germany are now available for occupancy 13 weeks of the year and facilities for tent camping have been established at Swallow Falls.

The Deep Creek Park area has been undergoing extensive improvements during the past year, and according to Johnson, the state planning program for recreation in the western counties is now about 70 per cent complete.

Johnson presented statistics to show that over two million dollars have been spent by persons enjoying the recreational facilities in Allegany and Garrett counties in the past year and stated that if these facilities were properly developed, they could easily account for ten times that amount.

There is an urgent need for modern hotels and motels in this area now, he pointed out, and one of the items necessary for a proper rounding out of the program is better accommodations for bathers.

Visitors present at the meeting included Louis Weld, Meyersdale; George J. Anderson, Wayne, Mich.; Charles Ludwick, E. W. Ebert and Fred Anderson, Keyser; Lowell Sowers, Lonaconing; John Dunn, and Francis A. McKenzie, Grantsville; Ted Bell and Donald Ebner, Cumberland; Horace Jordan, Frederick and Col. Charles G. Meehan, a former member of the club.

Keyser Scouts Stage Annual Swim Contest

KEYSER — The first annual Tri-Valley District Boy Scout swim was held at the Keyser pool a recent evening with 13 troops represented by 73 boys competing in 21 events. Troop 82, sponsored by Fountain Evangelical United Brethren Church, was awarded first place and a trophy. Scoutmaster Peter Fraser entered 11 boys who earned 65 points.

Scouts were divided into three categories: Non-swimmers, beginners and swimmers. The winner in each group received a Scout field book. High point boys were: Beginner, Thomas Feaster, Troop 39, Keyser, 14 points; non-swimmer, Keith Russell, Troop 54, Piedmont, 12 points; swimmer, Thomas Crogan, Troop 82, Fountain, 16 points. A participant was permitted to enter only four events, and a troop was allowed only two boys in each event.

The Keyser Lions Club financed the meet and provided 15 judges. Starters, scorers, and directors were from the district camping and activities committee.

Winners in the non-swimmer competition were: Floating, Thomas Amtower, Troop 82; surface diving, Keith Russell, Troop 54; breath holding, George Rembold, Troop 27; pingpong ball race, Don Weese, Troop 27 and running, Leon Garland, Troop 54.

Winners in the beginner class were: Side stroke swim, Charles Bradfield, Troop 83; free style swim, John Determan, Troop 33; surface dive, Thomas Feaster, Troop 39; floating, Charles Bradfield, Troop 83; breath holding, Douglas Durst, Troop 83; pingpong ball race, Thomas Feaster, Troop 39 and diving for fun, Norval Rogers, Troop 82.

Winners in the swimmer class were: back stroke swim, Robert Hamilton, Troop 33; breast stroke swim, Thomas Crogan, Troop 82; side stroke swim, Gary Roby, Troop 58; surface dive, Benjamin Randalls, Troop 27; free style swim, Gary Roby, Troop 58; floating, Carlton Swisher, Troop 58; underwater swim, Thomson Crogan, Troop 82; rescue, Kenneth Carvey, Troop 58 and diving, Kenneth Carvey, Troop 58.

Three life guards were on duty during the meet. Alton Fortney Jr. represented the Tri-Valley District as safety supervisor.

Cutting Of Brush Sought On Road

Jacob Mullenax appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request that the brush and trees along the far end of the Oliver Beltz Road be cut.

He said the school bus driver has indicated he will not use the portion of the road where the brush is heavy as he fears children on the vehicle could be injured by the brush or tree limbs. Mullenax said the brush and trees have grown to the extent they form a "tunnel."

The matter was referred to the County Roads Department.

Earl Walsh appeared before the board to request that repairs be made to an alley leading off the Calla Hill Road in Mt. Savage. The matter was referred to the Roads Department.

A Great Heroine Of The Cold War

It was nine years ago that Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina made her resounding jump from the third floor of the Soviet consulate in New York. The middle-aged school teacher, while visiting White Russian friends outside the city, had been forcibly brought back to the Soviet consulate and kept under guard.

Now Mrs. Kasenkina has become a naturalized citizen of the United States. She was accompanied to U. S. court by federal guards, for Mrs. Kasenkina is the kind of person the Soviet conspiracy would prefer not to let loose in the free world. She has been guarded almost constantly for nine years.

The story Mrs. Kasenkina told in the hospital after her historic leap pulled no punches. Her husband had vanished in 1937—a victim of the Soviet regime of that era. Her son as an "untrained soldier" had been killed in the siege of Leningrad in 1942. She herself had been subjected to all sorts of little persecutions.

But the more she saw of the difference between life in Russia and life in the United States, the stiffer her backbone became. Her great test came when the Soviet ambassador himself, Alexander Panyushkin, came up from Washington, confronted her, and demanded she tell the press she had been kidnaped by White Russians and was glad to have been rescued by Consul-General Lomakin.

In the hospital she said Panyushkin told her that she would be a heroine in Russia if she did as he ordered. Her refusal to do his bidding and her courage in jumping are enough to make this quiet little person one of the great heroines of the cold war.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky New York's Segregation

At any rate, New York City is truthfully facing the fact that it has a segregation problem. Most northern cities prefer to avoid admitting the truth that segregation also prevails in the North but that the methods are not the same as in the South. In a city like New York, there are Negro schools just as there are Negro schools in the South, but they came into existence for different reasons and by different processes.

Take, for instance, Harlem. When I was a high school student, Harlem was an upper middle class Jewish neighborhood. Before that it had been an old New York neighborhood. Most of the Jewish families lived in private brownstone apartments. The central street of this area was Lenox Avenue which was, at that time, a very fine promenade. Seventh Avenue was even more high tone. This area was between 110th and 135th Street, about a mile and a half. West of it was Morningside Park and then Columbia University on the Heights. East of it was a fast-growing Italian area.

All of this is now principally Negro, with the Puerto Ricans pushing the Negroes into the Bronx and the upper reaches of Manhattan Island. When the Negroes appeared, the whites disappeared, most of them moving southward into the West End Avenue, Riverside Drive and Central Park West sections which they took over from the very rich who were pushed toward Park Avenue and its environs.

The school system followed the population movement and soon Harlem schools were Negro schools and were staffed, to a degree, by Negro teachers. Harlem became the Negro capital of the world, the center for Negro culture and Negro vice, for Negro churches and Negro dance halls. Harlem became a Negro ghetto, not by the passage of a law but by the course of events, by the pressure of population, by the refusal of white folks to live in the same buildings as Negroes.

For years, both New York City officials and Negro politicians and protagonists refused publicly to recognize that the Harlem ghetto, the Bedford-Stuyvesant ghetto and similar areas were definitely segregative and that the Negro had very little choice in the matter.

Now the school system is facing up to the truth and the Board of Education devised a scheme to desegregate the public schools. The scheme is not working effectively. What it involves is bringing white children into Negro schools, bringing Negro children into white schools, exchanging teachers and using a bus system to convey children from better neighborhoods to worse ones in the hope of breaking down segregation in the schools if nowhere else. Some new housing is being advertised as "non-racial," a recognition of the fact that other houses are definitely racial, either white or Negro, despite laws to the contrary.

Mayor Robert Wagner and the president of the Board of Education, Charles Silver, are anxious for the desegregation efforts to succeed. The professionals in the school system seem to be sitting on their hands because they recognize that it is a very tough operation with which most parents are unfamiliar and they wonder what the parents will have to say about it when it is actually put into practice. Few white teachers offer to volunteer to teach in Negro schools, undoubtedly impressed by the various stories they hear and read of tough boys, using switch knives, in the schools that are predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican. It is not established that these children are tougher than any others, but a problem does exist.

One of the immediate results of this complex of problems is that since World War II there has been a surprisingly large exodus of white inhabitants from New York City to its suburbs, all of which are outside the city's administration. In these suburbs, the schools are locally managed and apparently no Negro problem exists in most of them, the cook's children going to the same school as the master's.

However, there has been an increase in the attendance at private schools—nowadays called "independent schools," to avoid the charge of snobbishness. Some of these schools have one Negro child per class to establish de facto racial equality.

This analysis of the New York segregation problem is given to indicate that it exists north of the Mason-Dixon Line as well as south of it.

'If You Need More-Spend Your Own'

Intolerant Majority To Take Away Basic Rights

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—This may turn out to be the week that future historians will call "The Week Of Infamy" in American history. For this is the week in which an intolerant majority in Congress is to take away one of the most important rights given to the states by the Constitution.

In fact the federal government now is to become the policeman authorized by a law—in disregard of the Constitution—to arrest and put in jail not only those local officials of the states who seek to obey the voting procedures as set forth in their state laws but those individuals who allegedly influence improperly the votes of other persons.

Nearly 20 years ago the late William E. Borah of Idaho, a great progressive and perhaps the greatest of the "liberals" of this century—a man who first achieved fame as a lawyer for organized labor and who recently was named as one of the 15 deserving honorable mention for the Hall of Fame of the United States Senate—made a historic speech when the same basic principle now at stake in "Civil Rights" legislation was up for debate in connection with an anti-lynching bill. He said to the Senate:

"I make no contention but that the fourteenth amendment has forever placed it beyond the power of any state to deny any person the equal protection of the laws, or to deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process. I recognize also that the state acts and speaks through its officers, legislative, judicial, and executive. I am not going to take refuge in technicalities, but I contend for what I believe to be a fundamental principle, and that is that while you may call a state thus acting and thus speaking to account, you cannot take jurisdiction over or deal with acts and deeds not done by the authority and by the direction of the state. It must at all times be state action.

"You cannot deal with acts under the fourteenth amendment not done by and under the authority and direction of the state. The dereliction of an officer in violation of the laws of the state, in disregard of the sworn duty exacted of him by the state, and subject to punishment by the laws of the state, cannot by any possible construction, either in law or conscience, be the act of the state.

"To establish any such principle would be to undermine and break down the integrity of every state in the union. If a state may not be entrusted exclusively with the authority and relied upon to exercise the authority to punish those who violate its own laws, public or private persons, then there is no such thing as local government, because the state is deprived of the very instrumentality by which it maintains state integrity."

The new "Civil Rights" legislation is aimed at local officials who in spite of state laws which say to them that they must not discriminate nevertheless are alleged to be denying negroes the vote. It is aimed also at any individual who exercises any influence that can be described by the words "intimidate, threaten, coerce," or "attempts to coerce," in voting.

But who is to say that in the many heated discussions between individuals during modern campaigns, the influence actively exerted by precinct workers for

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Thumbed the lists of Foster Dulles' petty satrap and find none in the dialing latitudes.

There is nothing in ancient hysteria that indicates the petty satrap will trigger the next co-operative elimination tournament. His record is as mild as two cups of tea to one bag.

The petty satrap was governor of a province under Persian domination. His trigger finger was no faster than a turtle with a dropped dining room.

His principal job was taking the census of camel noses under tents. The first Persian satrap lost his job when the Sultan ears-dropped his favorite calling him petty.

There is no edible reason for Foster Dulles' satrap-phobia. The last one was umbrella-holder for Haile Selassie when Mussolini qualified for the world's only equestrian statue on a balcony.

We've gone into this satrap business to the plimsoll mark of curiosity. We classify Foster Dulles as a diplomatic stagg fearing an early season purdue.

An a-bomb in Persian script is more involved than the English letter. The antidote is a shampoo with hair tonic for the sword of Damocles.

Franklin D. was right when he said the only thing we had to satrap was satrap itself.

Removal Best Treatment For Varicose Veins

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Varicose veins frequently run in families. The inherent weakness of the vessel walls causes the veins to dilate and protrude like worms beneath the skin. The defect is common also among people who are standing for long periods.

Blood is carried to the tissues in the arteries and returns to the heart via the veins. The latter structures have a series of valves which prevent the blood from going the wrong way between heart beats. When standing, for example, a long column of blood would drop back into the feet 70 times a minute unless the valves closed at the right time.

These little valves are the Achilles' heel of the entire venous system. When a vein in a leg becomes varicose, the walls dilate and stretch to such an extent that the valves no longer meet in the middle. As a result, blood flows back and the veins

The appearance of the extremity bothers the individual initially. Ordinarily varicosities seldom produce symptoms except slight fatigue and some aching of the legs at night. Moderate pain and tenderness occur when the vein becomes distended.

The situation is more serious if complications occur, and this is why treatment is advised when the passageways are not working properly. Varicose veins impair the nutrition of the skin; eczema may develop over the involved area, or the surface becomes discolored due to deposits of the blood pigments. The ensuing irritation leads to scarring, and ulcer is likely to form wherever the skin is damaged.

The best treatment is removal of the affected veins. They are not working properly anyway, and other veins can be called into use to take their place. The varicose vein is tied off or taken out with a long wire stripper.

This procedure is effective but is not simple and must be done under a general anesthetic. For temporary relief, an elastic support will help. This type of alleviation is recommended in older victims of varicose veins.

Try And Stop Me

Harry Hershfield — a most worthy Mr. New York — had a disillusioning visit with a pompous old publisher. The latter interrupted "Hash" in the middle of one of his favorite anecdotes to upbraid his butler.

"How many times," he yelled, "have I told you how to take one of my books out of the bookcase? Always blow the dust off first."

Herb Shriner boasts that a fireman in his home town has saved at least a dozen girls but never got a single medal or promotion for his bravery. He rescued them from the fire chief.

Meany Gets Thousands Of Letters Pledging Bolt Of Jimmy Hoffa

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Despite all the headlines and the sure-shot speculations that Jimmy Hoffa will be next head of the teamsters, inside fact is that AFL-CIO President George Meany has received thousands of letters from individual teamsters and locals pledging that they will bolt Hoffa if he tries to take them out of the AFL-CIO.

Actually Meany thought he had a promise from honest John English, the teamster treasurer, to start cleaning house sometime ago. But English was slow. Result: Hoffa's surprise acquittal bounced up against English and for Hoffa.

Meanwhile another honest teamster, Congressman Jack Shelly, Democrat of San Francisco, had been too modest about letting his candidacy become known.

Shelly fought Dave Beck's goons 20 years ago at Long Beach and nearly lost his life. He opposed using baseball bats and cargo hooks to keep longshoremen from going on the docks. So teamster goons used those same weapons on him. They bashed in his chest and nearly put out one eye.

Shelly is now serving in Congress, has a fine record, suffered from a heart attack, but still considers himself as physically fit as Eisenhower or Lyndon Johnson. He is willing to run, but like Eisenhower, wants to be drafted. In his case, however, the teamster machine is all on Hoffa's side, whereas in Eisenhower's case, the GOP machine was on Ike's side.

Result: Despite grassroots sentiment against Hoffa, it will be a miracle if Shelly is drafted.

Inspecting Banks

An unusual thing happened the other day among the banks of the 48 states, which don't usually agree unanimously. They all telegraphed Eisenhower, recommending the same man for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which guarantees safe deposits to the American public. This was the first time in 55 years there has been complete unanimity among the association of state banks.

The man they recommended was William A. Burkett, superintendent of banks for California.

Ignoring this unanimity, Eisenhower appointed ex-Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan to this key post.

Wolcott is a fine, honest old gentleman who retired from Congress after serving on the House banking and currency committee. But his appointment runs counter to the policy Ike announced at the Williamsburg Governors' Conference to give the states more participation in federal government.

For the FDIC is now dominated by the national banks, rather than the state banks. And what most people — perhaps including Eisenhower — don't realize is that national banks are not subject to FDIC inspection, only state banks. Furthermore, there are 9,000 state banks as against only 4,500 national banks.

Bank Scandals

It's in the state banks where the big scandals have been occurring—in some cases right under the nose of the FDIC. The FDIC was involved when Orville Hodge stole $1,200,000 in Illinois. And one reason Burkett got such enthusiastic backing from his banking officials was because he cleaned up a serious little-publicized banking scandal in California.

There, Gus Johnson, longtime treasurer of California, a Republican, was caught owing the banks $101,000. These were the same banks in which he placed millions of dollars of state funds, interest-free. Whenever certain banks wanted some state money to help their balance they could call up Gus Johnson and he would oblige with interest-free deposits.

Here is what Banking Superintendent Burkett found that the banks did in return:

"The Central Bank of Oakland," he found, "wrote off $68,999 of a loan to Johnson as a loss. The directors believed the loan should not have been made . . . The bank was a depository for millions of dollars of state funds at the time it made loans to Johnson.

"The American Trust Company loaned Johnson $13,700 at favorable interest rates over a 10-year period." Burkett also reported, "finally writing off $3,000 to losses, despite the fact that he had $4,363 on deposit in his commercial account.

"Johnson borrowed several thousand dollars a year from Trans-America Corporation." Burkett also reported, "and to this date some $40,000 of loans to Johnson have not been repaid."

When Frank Belgrano became head of Trans-America, he promptly cleaned this up.

The superintendent of banks also charged the treasurer of California with using state supplies, telephone, and state workers "for promoting his mining stock sales and other promotional schemes." Johnson was forced to resign, is now under further investigation.

Though the California scandal was mentioned only casually in the California press and pretty well-suppressed in the Republican-controlled California Legislature, Burkett's work was known in banking circles throughout the nation and that's why state bankers recommended him so vigorously, though unsuccessfully, for the FDIC.

NOTE—What labor needs today is a czar like Burkett to ride herd on its union funds and do for labor what Keresaw Mountain Lands did to clean up baseball. Men like Hoffa and Dave Beck have destroyed so much public confidence in labor, that it will take a tough cleaner-up to restore public confidence.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

The New York City taxicab rates, regulated by law, are the lowest in the United States. They are "Twenty-five cents for the first fifth of a mile and five cents for each fifth thereafter." Over 50 years ago, in 1905, the regulated rates for hansom cabs were "Fifty cents for the first mile, Twenty-five cents for each additional half mile." So the old time cab driver working on a commission did better 50 years ago than today's taxi skippers. In the old time cab the rate for a mile and a half was 75 cents. In a modern taxicab it comes to only 50 cents. And the cost of living today in New York City is four times higher than it was a half a century ago. No wonder the New York taxi skippers say they must have tips to acquire a living wage.

PLUMP INFANTS

How much did you weigh at birth? How about your first offspring? Mrs. Magdalena Lake of Johannesburg, South Africa, mothered 12 children whose total weight at birth was 159 pounds.

The smallest at birth weighed 10½ pounds. The largest at birth weighed 18 pounds four ounces. Three weighed 12½ pounds each at birth. All the rest were over 13 pounds when born. All are living. When Mrs. Lake had her first child she weighed only 115 pounds. When she gave birth to her last child she weighed 275 pounds.

SIDELIGHTS

Am asked the maiden name of Cyd Charisse. It was Tula Ellice Finklea. Charisse is the name of her first husband. . . . According to latest report 95 per cent of New Yorkers are born in hospitals. I was born in New York. But at home. So my mother knew for certain she got the right baby.

WEDDING PARTY

What dancing are the fathers of the bride and groom expected to do at a wedding party? What dance does the bridegroom have with his mother-in-law? That is what a couple of Baltimoreans are arguing about. They ask for a decision. The bride's father asks the bridegroom's mother for the first dance. The bridegroom's father asks the bride's mother for the first dance. The bridegroom's father also asks the bride for the second dance. The bride's father, if he hasn't pulled up lame by this time, asks the bride for the third dance. The bridegroom asks his mother-in-law for the second dance. Is that the way it went at your wedding? If so, what kind of a dancer is your mother-in-law?

CHARMING PLACE

The other night we dined at one of those country inns which our feminine friends usually describe as "charming." It was charming insofar as the interior decorating was concerned. The view from the dining room was magnificent. Where we made our mistake was in not asking for a view of the kitchen. We subsequently suffered from attacks of food poisoning. I have found that this happens more frequently in inns and restaurants described as "charming" or "quaint" than in other dining places. So when a restaurateur raves about the charm or quaintness of his place agree with him but politely ask "Now may I see your kitchen?"

PASSING BY

Vincent Lopez, Dean of dance band maestros. Has been an outstanding attraction on Broadway for nearly 40 years. And a hit on the airwaves, radio and television, for 25 years. He began his entertainment career as a piano player for the great vaudeville act of Pat Rooney and Marion Bent. As a bandmaster he was a major factor in popularizing the rumba in this country. He began it with playing that lively tune titled "The Peanut Vendor" written by Marion Sunshine, L. Wolfe Gilbert and Moises Simons.

RECORD

As previously noted, a player at Prince Rainier's Monte Carlo gambling joint is reported to have made 32 consecutive passes at the craps table. That is the world's record. Incidentally, before you play craps again at Monte Carlo, Las Vegas or Havana, read John Searne's highly informative book titled "Craps." A study of that will decrease your gambling losses.

Yankees Roll To 12-6 Victory Over Chicago White Sox

Yogi Berra's 3-Run Homer Turns Tide

Catcher Bats In Six Runs; Turley Rescues Bob Grim, Stops Sox

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the eighth inning snapped a 6-6 tie and sent the New York Yankees rolling to a 12-6 victory over the second place Chicago White Sox tonight. The triumph widened New York's league lead over the Sox to 4½ games.

A crowd of 46,830—which sent the Sox over the million mark for the seventh successive season—watched Chicago spot the Yankees five runs in the first two innings and then fight back into a tie before Berra's blazing hit decided the outcome.

Yogi had a banner night. In addition to his homer, he drove in three more runs with a pair of singles and a double.

Bob Grim, Yankees' third pitcher, was credited with the victory—his 11th in 13 decisions. He needed help when the Sox loaded the bases with two out in the eighth. Bullet Bob Turley came in and struck out Minnie Minoso.

Rinehart Speaks Up Twilight Prospers
Asks For Uniformity Coach Uses Noodle

By C. V. BURNS

D. ELDRED RINEHART

FIVE POINTS are stressed by D. Eldred Rinehart, of Washington county, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission and also president of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, in his all-out effort to bring nationwide uniformity to thoroughbred racing rules.

Mr. Rinehart points out that many states differ on the apprentice jockey rule. For instance, in Maryland a newcomer claims the five pounds apprentice allowance for one year or until such time he needs to ride 40 winners. He keeps the "bug" until he rides 106 winners in other states.

Under the claiming rule, a thoroughbred claimed in this state cannot be raced in another state until after the meeting at which the horse is haltered has been completed. In some states a claimed horse can be shipped to another meeting the next day.

In Maryland the disqualification rule calls for the stewards to place a disqualified horse in whatever finish position they see fit. A disqualified horse must be placed last in other states.

When a member of an entry is disqualified in some states both horses are affected. In others only the number of the one committing the foul is taken down.

The committee at its meeting in November at Laurel also hopes to make it mandatory for jockeys to wear fabric helmets at all tracks in this country.

MUTUEL HANDLE for the 12-day meet at Bel Air was $3,750, 154 or 12 per cent off from last year. The Maryland track had competition from Charles Town and Brandywine Raceway. At Fairgo's first 12-day session last year the wagering total hit $2,341,696 or an average of $186,808.

CANDI CEE, winner of the first race at Charles Town Monday, which returned $25.40 and paid $492.40 when coupled with Scottie Boy in the daily double, was the highest priced winner of the 1954 meet at Fairgo—$53.40 for two bucks. So you didn't bet it, eh?

PAUL MENTON, sports editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun, says those horrified at the Patterson-Rademacher fight probably are too young to remember Tex Rickard's master promotion of Dempsey-Carpenter at Boyle's Thirty Acres. He adds that Pete was a better match than the Frenchman was for Dempsey and there's a lot of truth to that statement.

JACK BURNER, secretary of the Twilight Baseball League, reports there is a good chance the circuit will expand to eight teams next season.

Several other sponsors have become interested due to the success of the league and they want in next season.

The six teams that started and finished this year were Barton, Lonaconing, Zihlman, Wright's Crossing, Midland and Finzel.

COACH Alex Vennari of Belington (W. Va.) High School reports that his program for the coming season is to place a de-emphasis on football and play schools more in the class with Belington's enrollment.

Belington has dropped several schools to avoid mis-matches, which bob up too frequently in high school athletics. We believe this is good judgment on his part and should be an example for others to follow.

THE caddies tourney which ended Monday at the Cumberland Country Club is a reminder that just 20 years ago Max Elbin, now pro at the Burning Tree Country Club, where President Eisenhower plays, was the caddy champion here. He beat Freddie Potts in the 36-hole final in 1937.

Musial went into the lineup of the suspended game as a pinch runner. The old National League record of having played in the most consecutive games was set by first baseman Gus Suhr of the Pirates. He played in 822 games from Sept. 11, 1931 to June 4, 1937. The major league mark of 2,130 consecutive games was set by the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

Tonight's suspended game was picked up in the top of the ninth with the Cards ahead 11-2 and Ken Boyer on first base. It was halted July 21st because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law. Musial entered the game as a runner for Boyer, then went to first base as the Pirates took the field for the ninth inning.

Buddy Parker Named Coach Of Steelers

Former Mentor At Detroit Signs Five-Year Pact

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27 (AP)—Clarence (Buddy) Parker signed a five year contract tonight as coach of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers.

Parker quit recently as coach of the Detroit Lions.

Walt Kiesling, now coach of the Steelers, will remain along with his staff — a Steeler spokesman said.

Terms of the contract, believed to be in five figures annually, were not revealed.

The Steeler spokesman said Kiesling and his aides will remain on the coaching staff at the specific request of Parker.

Parker is scheduled to take over the Steelers tomorrow at their training camp in Olean, N. Y.

The Steelers have lost their first two NFL exhibitions.

They next play the Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia on Labor Day.

Pittsburgh Beats Cards, 2-1; Musial Sets New Record

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals dropped 7½ games back of first place Milwaukee tonight, losing a 2-1 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates after winning a suspended game of July 21 by a 11-2 margin. The only consolation for the Cards was that veteran Stan Musial was able to make a token appearance and establish a National League record of having played in 822 consecutive games.

Bob Friend, the Pirate fire-balling right hander, outpitched young Von McDaniel to win the regulation contest. Friend, now with a 10-16 record, gave up only five hits. McDaniel, losing his fourth game in 11 decisions, allowed 8 hits.

Musial went into the lineup of the suspended game as a pinch runner. The old National League record of having played in the most consecutive games was set by first baseman Gus Suhr of the Pirates. He played in 822 games from Sept. 11, 1931 to June 4, 1937. The major league mark of 2,130 consecutive games was set by the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

Rotary Beats Elks, 3-2, In Extra Inning Battle

Jimmy Rice's Hit In 8th Breaks Up Playoff Contest

JIMMY Rice's timely two-base wallop scoring Roger "Pooch" Manges, who had drawn a base on balls, provided the run that gave Manager Joe Gallen's Rotary Club tilters a 3-2 decision in eight innings over the Elks last night at Penn Avenue Field in the opening game of the Hot Stove Baseball League's final playoff series.

Charley Rice, who had replaced Donnie Nave on the mound in the 7th inning, was the victim of the Rotary's extra inning rally.

The Elks forced the game into overtime by tying the score with a two-run outburst in the 6th inning. Roger Growden beat out a bunt, advanced to third on two passed balls and scored on Glenn Shipway's base wallop. Charley Rice's hit sent home the tying marker.

Rotary took a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Joe Ranker clouted a homer with Jimmy Rice on base.

Ranker, who started on the mound for Rotary was removed for Manges in the 7th inning and the latter finished the game, receiving credit for the victory.

Ranker sparked the Rotary attack with three hits in four official trips. Rice had two hits to his credit. Charley Rice and Dele Garney collected two safeties each for the Elks.

The second game of the best-of-three series is billed for Thursday at 7:30 p. m., at Penn Avenue Field. Score:

Dodgers Jolted By Chicago, 9-4

BROOKLYN, Aug. 27 (AP)—Ernie Banks drove in five runs with his 30th homer and a double tonight as the carefree Chicago Cubs walloped big Don Newcombe early and defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 9-4. The defeat dropped the third place Brooks eight games behind in the National League pennant race.

Rookie Dick Drott, 21, needed relief help in the ninth after giving up Gil Hodges' two-run 22nd homer, but claimed a 12-10 record and at least one victory over every club in the league.

The right hander gave up six hits and struck out seven. He walked eight and uncorked a wild pitch that scored a run.

The seventh place Cubs, who have won 10 of their last 14 and 16 of 23, scored four in the first, three on Banks' home run, off Newk and got rid of the onetime Dodger ace when he issued his 41st, Erskine (7) and Campanella, third walk and gave up the second W—Drott, L—Newcombe.

Red Sox Beat Tigers In 11th

DETROIT, Aug. 28 (AP)—Substitute first baseman Dick Gernert delivered a two-run single in the top of the 11th inning and provided the Boston Red Sox with a 7-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers tonight before 34,797 chilled spectators.

Flam To Face U.S. College Tennis Champ

National Singles Will Open Friday

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Herbie Flam gets a quick answer this weekend to the question about his chances in the 76th national tennis championships.

The Davis Cup ace from Beverly Hills, Calif., currently featured on one of television's network get-rich shows, today drew as his opening opponent Peru's Alejandro Olmedo, the U.S. college champion from Southern California.

The tournament opens Friday in both the men's and women's singles division. Flam, No. 2 ranked national and seeded eighth, will have to be at his best to be around on Labor Day. Olmedo is rated one of the finest young players in the world.

The draw for the 10-day event produced a number of sparkling first round matches, one in the women's division.

There the heavily-favored Althea Gibson, Wimbledon champion, drew as her opponent opening opponent Karol Fageros, the blonde beauty from Miami, Fla. who is ranked eighth among the nation's feminine players.

Miss Gibson was seeded No. 1 in the women's division. Ashley Cooper, 20-year-old Australian champion who was runnerup to Lew Hoad at Wimbledon, was placed atop the men's field.

Behind Miss Gibson came Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., No. 2; Dorothy Knodel of Forest Hills, N. Y., No. 3; Shirley Bloomer of England, No. 4; Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., No. 5; Christine Truman of England, No. 6; Ann Haydon of England, No. 7; and Mary Hawton of Australia, No. 8.

In the men's competition, Dick Savitt of East Orange, N. J., was placed second followed by Sweden's Sven Davidson, a Wimbledon semifinalist, No. 3; former champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, No. 4; Neale Fraser of Australia, No. 5; Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., No. 6; Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris, No. 7.

Little League Rejects Shaughnessy Playoffs

Nonnenmann Gets Ruling; Barrelville Recognized Champs

Little League baseball headquarters at Williamsport, Pa., does not sanction Shaughnessy playoffs for leagues holding membership in the national organization, according to information received this week from the national secretary, according to Earl M. Nonnenmann, president of the Pen-Mar League.

The Pen-Mar circuit has been affiliated with the national organization since its inception in 1950 and has engaged in these playoffs annually.

President Nonnenmann was advised that split season schedules terminating with the winners of the first and second halves playing for the championship meet with the approval of the national organization. Exhibition games and Sunday baseball also are taboo for member teams of the Little League organization, the national secretary told the Pen-Mar loop head.

Serves No Purpose

The purpose of Little League baseball is to give the small fry of this country recreation that will not be detrimental to their health. It is felt that long drawn-out schedules do not serve any purpose, hence the move to de-emphasize top-heavy schedules that may prove injurious to growing youngsters.

Shaughnessy playoffs were inaugurated in the minor leagues of organized baseball during the "depression" days of 25 years ago and were designed as a means of adding revenue to the coffers of financially embarrassed teams. The plan has spread to basketball and numerous other sports but Little League Baseball feels it is unsuitable for the kids and disapproves it.

The recent double elimination playoff in the Pen-Mar Little League among three teams to determine the fourth place finish left many baseball followers gasping and the refusal of two teams to continue play in the Shaughnessy series apparently has brought matters to a head with the final edict from national headquarters to discontinue the

Patton Sees Few Breaking Par 71 In Walker Tests

U.S. And British To Clash Friday

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Chatty Billy Joe Patton, the golfing lumberman from North Carolina, predicted today American and British Walker Cuppers will be lucky to break Minikahda's par 71 more than two or three times.

But he lowered his standing as a soothsayer a little while later with a glittering three-under par 68 in a practice round.

"I still say there may not be more than two or three rounds of below-par golf during the matches," he said. "There's hard rough and trouble in a lot of places."

Patton had to share the day's tuneup honors, however, with big Guy Wolstenholme, 1956 English amateur champion who shot a three-under-32 on the first nine be-

Norris, Robinson Expected To Iron Out Differences

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Indications today were that ailing promoter James D. Norris and Sugar Ray Robinson would iron out their differences soon so that the middleweight champion could resume training for his title defense against Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

Norris, 50-year old president of the International Boxing Club, was rushed to St. Clare's Hospital late yesterday after suffering an attack of food poisoning. He had been waiting to talk business with Sugar Ray when he was stricken at this office.

But Jim was reported much improved today and resting comfortably. He was ordered to remain in the hospital until Thursday, however, because of a heart attack he suffered seven years ago.

Martinez-Gomes Fight At Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Harold Gomes of Providence, R. I. seeks his 13th straight triumph in a 10-round bout with Isidro Martinez of Panama tomorrow night at the Arena.

Gomes, New England featherweight champion, has a wide edge in experience over the Panamanian titlist in the nationally televised (ABC) clash scheduled for 10 p.m. (EDT).

The 23-year-old Gomes, a pro for nearly six years, has not been beaten since 1954. In 43 starts, he has won 40, including 21 by kayos. Martinez has been fighting since 1952. Only 23, he has an 18-3-1 record, with seven knockouts to his credit.

Negro Reveals He's Uncle Of Ralph Dupas

Boxer Seeks White Birth Certificate

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27 (AP)—A Negro from Louisiana's Bayou Country testified today that he is the uncle of lightweight contender Ralph Dupas.

The boxer is asking the civil district court to have the city issue him a white birth certificate so he may fight white boxers in Louisiana.

Christophe Duplessis, a tall native of Davant, La., took the stand as a witness for the city of New Orleans.

City Attorney John F. Connolly produced a statement Duplessis allegedly signed which said that the mother of the 21-year-old boxer was the Negro's sister. The statement also said Ralph Duplessis, fighting under the name of Ralph Dupas, was also Negro.

The State Athletic Commission has ruled it would not approve any matches for Dupas, No. 3 contender, until he obtains a white birth certificate. Louisiana law, passed last year, forbids competition between white and Negro athletes.

Elks Defeat Pittsburgh Plate, 12-2

Dick Klavuhn Beats Glassmen 4th Time

Scoring all their runs in three innings, the B.P.O. Elks walloped the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company tossers yesterday at Stitzer Field by the score of 12-2 in the opener of their best-of-three semi-final playoff series in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

Manager "Tag" Reel's aggression bombarded "Bud" Law and Bill Thompson, his successor, for a total of 16 hits to win under wraps for Dick Klavuhn, who registered his 14th triumph against five losses.

Law was shelled off the rubber in the third inning when the Elks scored six runs and Thompson came on to finish the game.

Jim Gaffney and Bill Underdunk led the Elks' offensive with two doubles and a single each. Johnny Cox, Bob Keyser and "Tag" Reel garnered two hits each for the winners. Six players accounted for the losing team's six bingles.

Klavuhn has beaten Pittsburgh Plate Glass four straight times this season. Before yesterday's game he chalked up 5-4, 8-7 and 4-1 decisions over the Glassmen. Bill Underdunk won the other game of the series for the Elks, 7-2.

Second game of the series is scheduled Thursday at 6 p.m. at Stitzer Field. Score: Pittsburgh Plate 000 020 0—2 6 2; B. P. O. Elks 206 400 1—12 16 2; Law, Thompson (3) and B. Frye, Klavuhn and Pence, LP—Law.

Hoot Song Beaten By Half Length

Time Is Slowest On Record; 25,000 See Trot Feature

DUQUOIN, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Hickory Smoke, responding brilliantly to the heady drive of John Simpson, today led all the way to score by half a length over Hoot Song and win the Hambletonian's only two-horse race - off in the premier trotting stake's 32-year history.

The Winterbook favorite, bought last year for $15,000 by L. B. Sheppard and A. C. Mudge of Hanover, Pa., from their neighboring friend, Bowman Brown Sr., circled the fast Duquoin Fairgrounds clay oval in a leisurely 2:08 4/5. It was the slowest winning Hambletonian time on record.

The triumph was the first for the 37-year-old Simpson of Maitland, Fla., in nine Hambletonians.

Hickory Smoke's winning share was $47,917.62, fifth largest for the event which for the first time was run in divisions.

It was the first time the Hambletonian had been held at Duquoin, a coal mining town in Southern Illinois where grand circuit races had been held for years at the Duquoin Fairgrounds.

The race will be held at the Duquoin Track next year, too. And the Hambletonian society meets tomorrow when it may consider contracts for future years.

The classic had been held at Goshen, N. Y., since 1930 but the Hambletonian Society decided to move after a dispute with George P. Monaghan, New York Harness Racing Commissioner.

Hoot Song, owned by two Gaits Farm of Carmel, Ind., and piloted by Ralph Baldwin, 47-year-old veteran from Longwood, Fla., was aiming for his first decision in eight Hambo starts.

An overflowing grandstand crowd of 25,000 roared as Hoot Song nearly drew abreast half way around the furlong but Smoke again opened a length margin by the head of the stretch and maintained it without a flick of the whip by Simpson.

Smoke, the 2-year-old trotting champion of 1956 with 11 first in 34 starts, made the Kentucky Derby of harness racing his fourth victory in 11 outings this season.

Gene Hess Cops Opener For Post's

Beats Peskin's, 5-4; Chalks Up 18th Win

Gene Hess outpitched Ronnie Phillips yesterday at Fort Hill Field to give Post Playground a 5-4 triumph over Peskin's Shoe Store in the first game of the Rec Softball League's best-of-three final playoff series.

In posting his 18th win against two losses, Hess turned back the Shoemen with four hits and mowed down nine via the strikeout route.

Peskin's tried to pull the game out of the fire with a last ditch rally in the 7th but Hess put on the brakes by fanning Corbin for the final out with runners on second and third.

Ray Silvious, Ronnie Lewis, "Pork" Boone and "Acre" Stickley collected two hits each for the winners. Two of Peskin's four hits were credited to John Teter. Phillips and Fritz Showers obtained the other safeties.

The series resumes Thursday at 6 p.m., at Fort Hill Field. Score: Peskin's 000 120 1—4 4 2; Post's 300 011 1—5 7 2; Phillips and Mahew, Hess and R. Lewis.

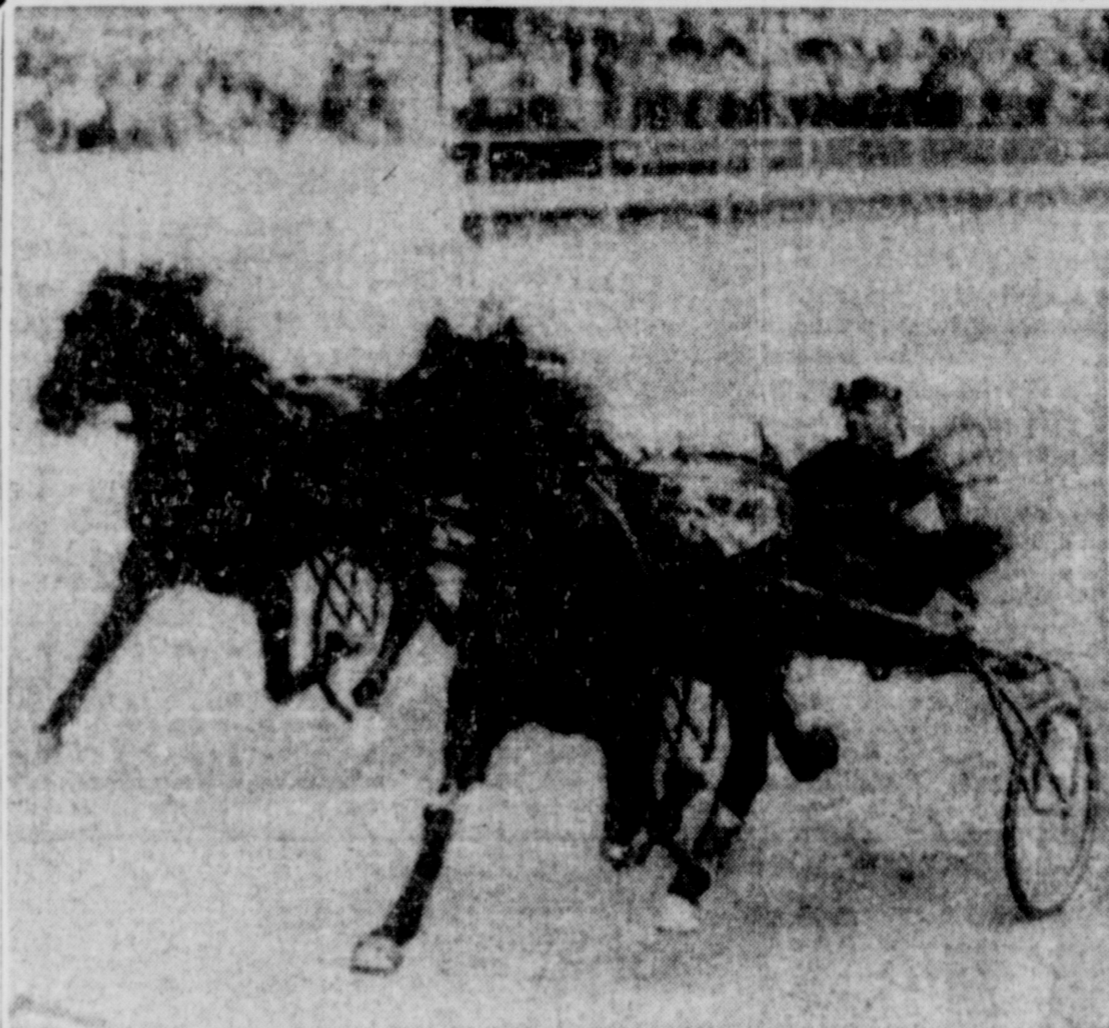

Redlegs Get Four In Ninth, Win 5-2

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP)—A pinch-hit double by Ted Kluszewski and a homer by Bob Thurman with two aboard in the ninth inning gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies tonight, snapping a three-game losing streak for the victors.

Trailing 2-1 in the final inning, the Redlegs sent Kluszewski to bat after Don Hoak singled with one out. Big Ted scored Hoak with a blast to left center. Alex Grammas came on to run for the ailing Kluszewski. Winner Joe Nuxhall, flied out, Johnny Temple walked, and then Thurman blazed the ball deep into the right field stands where it bounced off a light standard.

Dick Farrell replaced starter Don Cardwell and gave up singles to Frank Robinson and George Crowe. He got Wally Post to pop up to end it. Post accounted for the other Redlegs' run in the fourth with his 16th homer.

Cincinnati 000 100 004—5 11 2; Philadelphia 000 200 000—2 8 0; Nuxhall and Burgess; Cardwell, Farrell (9) and Lonnett, L—Cardwell.

Barton Posts 13-6 Triumph Over Midland

Lefty Jim Wilson Bags Series Opener

BARTON, Aug. 27 — Manager Don Bean's pennant winning Barton club drew first blood in the Twilight Baseball League's final playoff series by trouncing Midland Monday on the latter's field by the score of 13-6.

Lefty Jim Wilson went the route for Barton, yielded 13 hits, fanned eight and notched his eighth win of the campaign against two losses.

Monday's victory was the fifth straight for Barton over Midland this season and it marked Wilson's fourth win of the series between the teams. During the regular season Wilson beat Midland by scores of 9-6, 4-2 and 11-4. Billy Johnson won the other game by the score of 12-10.

Barton collected a total of 16 hits and knocked Paul "Bubbles" Thompson out of the box in the 6th inning. Tom Dunn finished on the rubber for the losers.

"Buck" Smith paced the Barton stickmen with three bingles and Woody Symons garnered a double and single. Johnny Johnson featured in centerfield with two nice running catches. Tom Dunn and Terry Winner headed the Midland batsmen with two hits each.

The second game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. at Barton. Score: Barton 004 206 1—13 16 1; Midland 002 000 4—6 13 4; J. Wilson and Ed Warnick, Paul Thompson, Dunn (6) and D. Williams.

Washington Bags Legion Opener, 4-1

Pittsfield Beaten In 13-Inning Game

ELKTON, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—A protested play and six extra innings of baseball marked the opening of an American Legion Junior Baseball sectional tournament tonight as Washington, D.C., defeated Pittsfield, Mass., 4-1.

Third baseman Larry Nolan hit a three-hit homer with two out in the 13th inning to win the game for the Region 3 champs. The losers from Massachusetts, Region 1 titlists, will play West Warwick, R. I. of Region 2—which drew a first-round bye—at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the second game of the double elimination Section A tournament.

The winner here will advance to national finals next month in Billings, Mont.

The rhubarb developed in the fourth inning with Washington men on second and third and two out. The next batter, Washington outfielder John Haley, fanned. The umpire, not seeing catcher Cal Airolodi drop the ball, called Haley out.

When Airolodi picked up the ball and rolled it toward the mound, the umpire told him he would have to throw to first because he dropped the ball. By the time Airolodi did that, Haley was safe at first and Cary Stedman had scored from third.

Pittsfield protested but it was disallowed on the ground that the play had to be completed. Tournament Director Bob Koch said it was a bad call by the umpire but nothing could be done about it. Pittsfield's lone run came in the seventh on a single by first baseman Dave Culver and a double by second baseman Dave Frank.

Pittsfield 000 000 100 000 0—1 7 1; Washn 00 100 000 000 3—4 8 4; Pia, Connolly (12) and Airolodi; Green, Campana (12) and Schwab.

Wynn Masters Baltimore, 5-4

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27 (AP)—Early Wynn snapped his losing streak at five straight tonight, hurling the Cleveland Indians to a 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. It moved the Tribe into fifth place, a half game ahead of the Orioles.

A two-run homer in the first inning by Bob Avila enabled Wynn to post his 14th victory against 15 losses. Wynn went the distance, giving up eight hits. Two of Baltimore's runs were unearned because of errors by Al Smith and Vic Wertz.

The defeat went to veteran Ray Moore, now 9-10. He was removed for a hitter in the eighth inning. Gene Woodling, Indians' top hitter, was hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball and was taken to Lakeside Hospital for X-rays. Baltimore 101 011 000—4 8 1; Cleveland 220 100 000—5 8 2; Moore, Lehman (8) and Triandos; Wynn and Hegan, L—Moore.

Lopez Club Gives Yankees Stiff Argument For 7th Straight Year

Al Never Finished Worse Than Second

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Maybe nice guys don't win pennants, as Leo Durocher once said, but gentlemanly Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox certainly gives it a good try.

Quiet-spoken Lopez, for the seventh straight year, has a team giving the doughty New York Yankees a stiff argument in the American League.

Lopez, who took over the White Sox this year, never finished worse than second in his six seasons with the Cleveland Indians and, currently has his runner-up Sox and Tribe beat out the Yankees for the pennant.

If the Sox take two of three from the Yanks in the series starting tonight they'll be only 2½ games behind. Chicago then will have 28 more games to play and the Yankees 28. However, 20 of the remaining Sox games will be away from home, while the Yankees will play 18 at home.

The Sox and Yankees meet for York Sept. 13 and 14.

Women's Tourney Ends In Tie At Maplehurst Club

Mrs. G. William Bibby and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Cumberland tied for first place with low gross scores of 87 in the invitational golf tournament held yesterday at the Maplehurst Country Club, Frostburg.

Thirty-six members of the Cumberland Country Club and 20 players representing Maplehurst played in the tourney.

May Cook of Maplehurst posted low net score of 75 and Mrs. George Henderson, Cumberland, and Mrs. Ruth Loar, Maplehurst, tied for the runner-up spot with 76.

Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth, Cumberland, had the lowest number of putts—30.

Members of the Maplehurst Country Club will be guests of the C. C. C. women at an invitation tourney to be held next Tuesday from home, while the Yankees will play 18 at home.

the last time this season at New York Sept. 13 and 14.

Cooper, Fraser Take National Doubles Crown

Australians Beat Mulloy And Patty

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 27 (AP)—Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser, Australia's No. 1 Davis Cup team, won the National Doubles Tennis Championship today, overpowering Wimbledon titlists Gardnar Mulloy and Budge Patty 4-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3 at Longwood.

The young Aussies settled down after a shaky start to defeat the 43-year-old Mulloy and the 43-year-old Patty, who have played together as a team only about a dozen times.

Ageless veterans Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret Osborne DuPont won their 12th national women's title by snapping the victory string of Wimbledon queens Althea Gibson and Darlene Hard, 6-2, 7-5.

Mulloy and Patty, top-seeded off their stunning triumph over Lew Had and Fraser at Wimbledon, didn't have the speed or power to match their opponents.

After breaking Fraser's service in the third game, they merely played out the string for their first set victory. But then the Aussies took command and the American duo wilted.

The triumph by the second-seeded Australians probably saved the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee from a predicament.

A Mulloy-Patty triumph was expected to force the committee to extend an invitation to the seasoned veterans to join the cup squad. Patty has refused such invitations in the past because of the lack of assurance he definitely would play.

The 20-year-old Cooper, who joined Fraser as the top Australian tandem when Had turned professional after Wimbledon, was outstanding.

He was unbeatable with his blazing service at the line and was guilty of few errors in his volleys. Time and again he retrieved shots for neat placements.

In the women's division, Miss Brough and Mrs. DuPont ended the winning streak of Misses Gibson and Hard at 37 matches covering nine tournaments and the Wightman Cup competition.

Miss Brough and Mrs. DuPont were top-seeded in defense of a title they first captured in 1942.

Hartack's Win

Total Is 266

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Jockey Bill Hartack turned in four victories at Washington Park today including the featured Dolton Purse in which he rode Ralph Lowe's Circle Out to a two-length triumph over Shirk.

Hartack rode Circle Out to the front at the head of the stretch and then withstood Shirk's late challenge, covering the six furlongs in 1:11 3/5. Speedster was third.

Circle Out paid $7.60 to backers in the crowd of 10,655.

Hartack also scored aboard Song Parade II ($10.40) Surry ($4.60) and Stage Tracer ($9.60).

The four winners upped Hartack's nation-leading total of 266 giving him a lead of 36 over Willie Shoemaker.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 27 (INS)—"Perk Chop Hill," authored in Let me say a loud "hurray" for book form by General S. L. A. Gregory Peck and Sy Bartlett Marshall. It's a stirring drama who so strongly believe that scrip-tic tale of a battle taking place writers should be given a share only 80 miles away from the in the profits of a movie, that peace conference grounds at Panthey are giving an appropriate munjom, Korea, and of a single "cut" on a story they've just patrol's tragic struggle to reach bought, "Pork Shop Hill," to a position within shouting dis-Scripter James Webb! This should tance of the peace tables. Greg, be heartening news to hundreds who is finishing "The Big Coun-tyewriter pounders who sel-try" for Willy Wyler, tells me dem get in on the gravy. he'll start this new project in Let me tell you more about February of '58.

AIR CONDITIONED
EMBASSY Theatre 2 GREAT HITS! NOW!

PLUS! LEX BARKER
IN TARZAN'S SAVAGE FURY!

Dean Martin makes his debut as a solo TV star on Octo-ber 5 for NBC. He's made guest appearances, but this will be the first time he's had his own story. Cy Howard delayed his trip to Eu-rope to write Dean's material. It almost knocked Dean, NBC and everyone out when Elvis Presley asked $75,000 for a single appearance on the opening night show. That's an all-time high, isn't it?

Elvis' price has gone up since he was paid $50,000 from Ed Sul-livan. The money he's taking in makes Uncle Sam richer and richer.

Lou Costello's first movie since he and Bud Abbott broke up is "10,000 Kids and a Comic." Yes, you guessed it—it's a story about Lou himself. The rolly-polly Lou has commissioned Jim Bacon, syndicated Hollywood columnist, and Joe Glaston, the latter Costello's press agent for 17 years, to write the yarn.

There will be plenty of comedy, naturally, but the plot also re- volves around Lou's serious bout with rheumatic fever and also the tragedy of losing his seven-months-old son, Lou Jr., in a swimming pool drowning. It was in his son's memory that Costello founded the Lou Costello Jr. Youth Center, where so many youngsters have been guided to good citizenship.

Apparently Bing Crosby doesn't know his own popularity. While on a fishing trip off the Canadian coast, he received word via ship's radio that it was imperative for him to speak to the Edsel people about his CBS October tele- vision show.

Bing was forced to put in at the nearest town, Goose Bay, in Can- ada, to talk via telephone. Every- one in the town crowded about the pier and the local cannery shut down during this period so the employees could join with the town's inhabitants. Before the popular Bing could get to the telephone he had to sing for 25 minutes. Then while he was talking on the phone, Phil Har- ris, who accompanied him on the fishing trip, carried on.

Snapshots of Hollywood collect- ed at random:

Marjorie Rambeau, who has been ailing for some weeks, is in Hollywood's Presbyterian Hospi- tal for a complete checkup. While there her 96-year-old mother passed away. Here's hoping Marjorie will soon be her gay bright self.

The late Frank Morgan's son, George, and his wife welcomed a baby girl at Santa Monica Hospi- tal. Papa's a film editor at Dis- ney's.

Cobina Wright's new grand- daughter will be named Cobina III (What else?)—Cobina Wright Beaudette. Didn't recognize Betsy Drake in the theatre at Las Vegas until she turned around to greet me, her hair is so very blonde. She and Cary Grant held hands dur- ing the show.

A nice telegram from Phillip Reed, who married Audrey Gil- lin in Seattle, Washington. Her brother, John, has been the fre- quent escort of publicist Lee An- derson.

That's all today. See you to- morrow!

Times-News Plane Reaches Ireland Ahead Of Time

The Times-News European Tour airplane arrived 43 minutes ahead of schedule at the Shannon Airport in Ireland yesterday morning.

The group of 37 local residents left Idlewild Airport in New York Monday for a three-week tour of Europe.

Victim Of Polio

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Robert, son of Oldtown, have returned from Washington, D. C., where their daughter, Mrs. Shirley Coyle, is a polio patient in General Hospital.

Mrs. Robertson said her daugh- ter, the former Shirley Twigg, has the nonparalytic type of polio and is reported in fair condition. She was admitted to the hospital Sunday morning.

Mrs. Coyle is 21 years old and the mother of a two-year-old son.

CHRYSLER

54 Plymouth Club Coupe

The former local owner of this two tone car kept it in tip-top condition with regular 1,000 mile checks. If you want a trouble-free car for that second car in the family this is it. The equipment includes large heater, defroster, electric windshield wiper, signal lights, backup lights,
tinted glass, radio, airfom seats, good tires, and the green two-tone enamel paint is A-1. The standard transmission and A-1 6 cylinder engine makes this an economical car to operate. Call
PA 4-3841 for a demonstration.

Young Girl Killed When Hit By Truck

Connie Crabtree, 11, Struck Near Home North Of Paw Paw

An 11-year-old Oldtown School student was killed yesterday afternoon when she was struck by a truck while crossing Maryland Route 51 three miles north of Paw Paw, W. Va.

Connie Jean Crabtree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Crabtree, RD 1, Paw Paw, died of a fractured skull when she was hit by the flatbed truck about 3 o'clock.

She also suffered internal injuries and a compound fracture of the right leg, said Maryland State Police.

Walked In Front Of Truck

Police said the child was returning to her home from a visit at a neighbor's house. She apparently stopped alongside the highway to permit an unidentified automobile, traveling north, to pass and then stepped in front of the truck which was headed in the opposite direction toward Paw Paw.

The driver of the truck was identified as Vernon Alfred Hedrick, 30, of Levels, W. Va. The truck's owner, Emory Shirley, of Paw Paw, was a passenger in the vehicle.

Both men told police they were going from Green Spring, W. Va., toward Paw Paw when the accident occurred.

The girl's body was brought to Memorial Hospital by ambulance.

No Charges Filed

Troopers Carlton W. Lewis and Robert Wolford of the LaVale barracks, investigated the accident. No charges have been preferred pending completion of the investigation.

The victim is survived by her parents, Walter D. Crabtree and Mrs. Josephine (Alkire) Crabtree, and two brothers, Larry and Eddie Crabtree, all at home. She was born in Cumberland on August 5, 1946.

She attended Oldtown School and was active in the Sulphur Springs Methodist Church.

The body is at the Parks Funeral Home in Berkeley Springs, W. Va., pending funeral arrangements. The family has requested that flowers be omitted and that donations instead be sent to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children in Cumberland.

Legion Post Plans Annual Picnic Sunday

Fort Cumberland Post 13 American Legion will hold its annual stag picnic at Ali Ghan Country Club Sunday beginning at noon and continuing until 7 p. m.

The outing is open to Legionnaires and their friends, following the custom of past years. The menu will include hot dogs, cold drinks, cold cuts, sloppy joes, bean soup and corn on the cob.

Russell C. Paupe, adjutant, is chairman of the picnic committee assisted by Donald R. O'Neil, chief chef, and Newt Parrish, assistant chef; William A. Crable, Charles E. Griffith, Walter T. Hansel and James Jones, food committee; Joseph Macon, Lester S. Boggs, Roy J. Kreger, John W. Sturtz and Albert T. Eyer, entertainment; William Coble, Clete Price, Robert Washbaugh and Claude Lindner, games; John Hamilton, R. Stanley Byer, William M. Kreger and William Bantz, corn; and Ira Northcraft, Perry Edmiston and Phil Fleming, commanding generals. Paupe has charge of tickets.

On Saturday night before the annual picnic, a testimonial dinner and dance in honor of John W. Sloan, department commander, will be held and Commander Sloan expects to remain for the picnic. He will be accompanied here from Baltimore by Charles Law, senior vice commander and immediate past grand chef de deare of the state of Maryland 40 & 8; and Daniel Burkhardt, department adjutant.

Oldest Barber Gets New License

Jacob M. Myers, who has been a barber in Cumberland for 60 years, has been issued a new barber's license replacing the one he had held ever since 1904. David L. Miller, left, a member of the State Board of Barber Examiners, is shown presenting the new license to Mr. Myers, who has operated at 448 North Mechanic Street ever since 1912. The veteran barber, Cumberland's oldest, will be 83 years of age September 27. All barbers who had at least two years of experience as of June 1 must by September 1 file application for certificates of qualification which will be issued for $2 without re-examination. This re-licensing is required by House Bill 649 of the last session of the General Assembly, now included as Chapter 792 of the State Code. This is the final week for barbers to apply. This measure is not applicable in Anne Arundel, Calvert, Howard, Somerset and Worcester counties. License applications must be sent to State Board of Barber Examiners, 34 Hopkins Place, Baltimore 1.

Runaway Theft Suspects Will Get Hearings

Two Cresaptown boys, 14 and 15, who were picked up and questioned in connection with the August 18 breaking and entering of the Amcelle Tavern, face Juvenile Court action today on charges of being delinquent minors.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator who questioned the boys yesterday at the state's attorney's office and took statements, said they will probably be given hearings today.

The youngsters were picked up last week and were released to custody of their parents pending further questioning. But the two boys had other ideas and ran away from home Friday night.

On Monday night Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police and Mr. Lilya returned the youngsters here from the county jail at Fairmont, W. Va.

When they left home the two boys reportedly took an auto belonging to Okey Macerth which had been parked on a lot in Cresaptown. They drove to Grafton, W. Va., where the car developed motor trouble.

Sgt. Baker said the pair left the stranded car and went to sleep in some weeds. Discovered by authorities, they were lodged in the Children Shelter in Grafton. But when they created a rumpus at the shelter, causing property damage, they were transferred to the county jail at Fairmont.

This time, they're in the Allegany County Jail until the hearing is held.

One of the boys reportedly admitted that they took about $30 in silver, a wrist watch, a German Luger pistol and some ammunition. The gun and ammunition were recovered.

WAC Recruiter Here Today

Sgt. Alice Sanders, assistant WAC recruiter for this area, will be at the local Army Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building today to interview young women interested in a career in the Army. M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley, local recruiter, said interviews may be arranged with or without appointments.

Sgt. Hartley also reported yesterday that five area men have been enlisted.

Clarence W. Hall, 33 Park Avenue, Frostburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hall; and Robert L. Ball, 107 Park Avenue, Frostburg, son of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Green, enlisted under the Army's high school program. Upon completion of their basic training they have elected to attend Automotive Mechanics School. Both are graduates of Beall High.

James L. Messick, 508 Frederick Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Messick Sr.; Richard F. Smith, 459 Frederick Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Smith; and Robert A. Godwin, 455 Columbia Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Godwin, enlisted for two years each under the Army's two-year program.

Sgt. Hartley said September enlistment quotas will be limited and men contemplating entering the service should apply this week.

Hurt At Practice

Lehew Miller, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lehew Miller of Christie Road, suffered a dislocated left shoulder yesterday at football practice at Fort Hill High School. He was treated at Memorial Hospital about 5:30 p. m.

Drivers Give Magistrate Busy Day

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason had a "field day" yesterday when he disposed of some 17 cases of motor vehicle violation. Fines totaled $125 and costs, many of which were forfeited. Among the violators was a California motorist who was fined $11.45 for exceeding 50 miles an hour on U.S. Route 40.

A Delaware driver was fined $16.45 for permitting an unauthorized person to operate his car, and the driver was fined $11.45 for not having an operator's license.

Radar was used in many of the cases investigated by Maryland State Police. Quite a few of the drivers were arrested for exceeding the 30 or 50 miles an hour speed limits and one motorist was picked up for improper passing.

Violators of motor vehicle laws who appear before Magistrate Mason can get a good look at pictures in the court room which show death in the making.

He has a number of framed photos which show auto accidents in which the occupants did not live to relate their experience.

Constant Traffic Violator Fined $800 In Hancock

HANCOCK, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—A perpetual traffic violator today drew one of the heaviest fines ever levied against a motorist in Washington County—$800 on four charges.

Wilbur S. Brown, about 35, of Paw Paw, W. Va., was found guilty by Magistrate Edward T. Fost, who gave him the choice of the stiff fine or 240 days in the county jail.

Brown was fined $400 for drunk driving, $200 for failure to stop after an accident, $50 for failure to keep to the right side of the road, and $150 for driving on a revoked license.

The defendant was accused of driving across the center line of U. S. 40 and smashing into an oncoming vehicle.

Soil Bank Rule Is Explained

All farmers who have an "old farm" wheat acreage allotment for 1958 and who normally grow winter wheat are eligible to sign a winter wheat acreage reserve agreement under the 1958 soil bank program. Leonard C. Burns, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said yesterday.

Producers on farms which received a wheat acreage allotment for the first time for the 1958 wheat crop are not eligible to participate in the wheat acreage reserve program, the chairman declared.

The sign-up period for 1958-crop winter wheat acreage reserve agreements started Monday and closes October 4.

Under the 1958 program, farmers will agree not only to reduce their wheat acreage below the allotment, but also to limit their harvest of "soil bank base" crops (generally all crops produced for harvest) to a "permitted acreage." This limit will be determined, in general, by subtracting the number of acres in the Reserve from the total in the soil bank base.

C&O Canal Park Bill Protested By Six Groups

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 27 (AP)—Five Washington County organizations and one statewide group today protested to congressional members about the bill that would establish a park along the entire Chesapeake and Ohio Canal route.

The group sent telegrams to each member of the Senate Committee on Interior Affairs. They asked that river frontage in Washington County be exempted from the bill which would establish a national park over the 165-mile route.

Those signing the protests were the League of Maryland Sportsmen, Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce, Washington County Farm Bureau, Pomona Grange of Washington County, Washington County Conservation Club and the Isaac Walton League chapter.

Frank C. Wachter, chairman of the C. & O. committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said the group did not oppose objectives of the bill outside the county. He added that the chamber was not opposed to setting up parks at various places along the route but it opposed converting the whole area to that purpose.

Sportsmen object to the entire strip being made a federal park for reasons of conservation, hunting and fishing, while the Chamber feels it would deprive the county of future industrial sites.

$225 Settlement Ends Damage Suit

A $225 settlement was filed with a damage suit yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

David J. Roche, 18, by Francis R. Roche and Elizabeth T. Roche, his parents and next friends, brought the action against Agnes D. Bartlett, Charles S. Bartlett and Howard A. Benson.

The declaration, filed by Attorney Edward J. Ryan, stated that young Roche was a passenger in an automobile owned and operated by Benson, which was traveling west on U. S. Route 40 near Naves Crossroad on May 9, 1957. At the same time Charles S. Bartlett was driving an automobile owned by Agnes D. Bartlett along Christie Road. The two vehicles collided and Roche was injured.

The $225 settlement was signed by Mr. Ryan and William H. Geppert as attorney for the defendants.

Maryland Hay Supply Sufficient For Needs

Maryland dairy and livestock feeders have been reminded by John L. Crothers Jr., marketing specialist at the University of Maryland, that sufficient hay is available in Maryland and nearby states to take care of minimum roughage requirements.

Mr. Crothers suggests to County Agent Joseph M. Steger that there is no need for "panic buying." If all concerned deal with the hay situation calmly, the price should not become unreasonable, he asserts.

Feed grains are in ample supply in the United States. Government stocks of grain, plus low freight costs for hay should keep feed grains from becoming unreasonable in price.

In an analysis of the situation, Mr. Crothers observes that farmers definitely short of current minimum hay requirements should be able to buy at reasonable prices from neighbors or

School Board Membership Now Complete

The Allegany County Board of Education is complete again with the swearing in of Mrs. Winna M. Starcher, wife of L. Brooks Starcher, 557 Patterson Avenue, as the newest member. She received the oath from Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Mrs. Starcher was appointed several weeks ago by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin to fill the vacancy caused by the death July 4 of Mrs. Stanley Buckley of LaVale. Her term runs until May 1959.

Other members of the Board of Education are Kenneth R. Malcolm of Westernport, president; Mrs. Albert C. Cook of Frostburg; Joseph M. Miller and J. Goodloe Jackson, both of this city.

School Lunch Personnel To Map Plans

Sessions Set At Parkside

Allegany County public school lunch personnel will meet today and tomorrow in the Parkside School cafeteria in LaVale to complete preparations for the 1957-58 school term, according to Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias.

Today at 9:15 a. m. all cafeteria managers and head cooks will meet at Parkside School to discuss procedures and practices for the coming school year.

This afternoon the managers and cooks will visit the Queen City Dairy and the Community Bakery.

Tomorrow all school lunch personnel will attend an all-day session at Parkside. After registration at 9:15 a. m., Mrs. Eaton and Miss Margaret Doak, Parkside School principal, will extend greetings at 9:30 o'clock.

A movie, entitled "Low Moisture Fruit" will be shown at 10 a. m. J. Templeton, assisted by C. M. Butler of John Sexton & Company, will present a demonstration at 10:20 a. m.

Mrs. Eaton will present an oven cookery demonstration at 11:15 a. m. The cafeteria supervisor and Mrs. Alberta Morton will demonstrate a cake made with dried eggs at 11:30 a. m.

After lunch at noon, the afternoon program calls for evaluation of lunch at 1 o'clock, a banana icing demonstration at 1:30 by Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Elizabeth Rizer, a movie and discussion at 2 o'clock by William Herman of the Wear-Ever Aluminum Company, a 2:30 o'clock meeting of the Allegany School Food Service Association and finally refreshments at 3:30 p. m.

Between 140 and 150 are expected at the Thursday sessions. Garrett County cafeteria personnel and Allegany County parochial school cafeteria personnel also have been invited.

Three Vehicles Badly Damaged In Accident

Nearly $8,000 worth of damage to three motor vehicles resulted from a collision on Pennsylvania Route 56 about two miles west of Pleasantville late Monday night. State Police at Bedford, Pa., said two tractor-trailer trucks and an automobile were involved in the collision following another minor crash on the highway.

The accident occurred when the brakes on the tractor truck driven by Boyd Bussard, 26, of Everett, Pa., gave away as it descended a mountain. The truck glanced off a car operated by Ruth Findley, 26, of New Paris, Pa., and hit a parked tractor truck belonging to Melvin E. Thomas, 22, of Hollisopple, Pa. None of the drivers were injured although the three vehicles suffered considerable damage.

The crash occurred as Bussard's truck and the Findley car attempted to go around another accident which partially blocked highway traffic.

Abrogation Of River Compact To Be Tested

Virginia To Seek High Court Ruling

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 27 (AP)—An early U. S. Supreme Court test of Maryland's abrogation of the Potomac River Compact of 1785 was promised today by the Virginia attorney general's office.

Kenneth C. Patty, assistant attorney general, said the state's legal staff now is drawing up briefs after completing "exhaustive" research into the issue. He said the suit should be ready to file with the Supreme Court within a few days.

Gov. Stanley told reporters the compact was not discussed at a conference he held today with Patty and Atty. Gen. Lindsay Almond Jr.

When reporters asked whether the talks with Patty and Almond, the latter the Democratic nominee for governor, may have dealt with politics, Stanley laughed and said "it was just a routine meeting."

An Amicable Meeting

Stanley told his press conference, however, yesterday's conference of Virginia and Maryland legislators and governors at Baltimore was an amicable meeting.

In fact, Gov. McKeldin of Maryland "is leading our fight," said Stanley, referring to Virginia's opposition to Maryland counties licensing establishments on the Virginia side of the Potomac River for the sale of whisky by the drink and the operation of slot machines.

McKeldin told the conference that if the Maryland Legislative Council did not sponsor legislation to bar such county licensing, he would have such measures introduced in the Legislature.

In answering a newsmen's question, he said he was disappointed that some members of the Maryland Council felt there was nothing wrong in the counties issuing licenses to businesses operating on piers from the Virginia shore.

Compact Revoked

Maryland's Legislature tossed out the 172-year-old compact between the two states earlier this year. It granted Virginians equal fishing rights in the Potomac, in return for free passage of Maryland ships through the Virginia capes. The federal constitution invalidated the latter provision.

Maryland's Governor McKeldin signed the compact repealer with full warning from free state legal advisers that the matter probably would end up in the Supreme Court.

McKeldin could not be reached for comment on today's development. John P. Tawes, chairman of the Maryland Tidewater Fisheries Commission which administers enforcement on the river, said he would have no comment until copies of the Virginia briefs were in hand.

Korean Vets Offered Check List By VA

Veterans planning to start to school this fall under the Korean GI Bill are urged by W. L. Limburg, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Baltimore, to follow a nine-point check list to avoid unnecessary delays.

Veterans in this area should contact Benjamin Flack, officer in charge of the Cumberland VA office, Room 309 Post Office Building for details.

Mr. Limburg notes that with approximately 8,000 veterans expected in training in Maryland this fall, the Baltimore office is operating at top speed to process their papers. Incorrect applications slow things for everyone, VA and veterans alike, he observed.

The suggested check list follows:

1. Since veterans are allowed only one change of course, they should give plenty of thought to their goal and the training program leading to the goal.
2. Veterans not sure of their training goal should in their own interest request VA vocational counseling.
3. Veterans should be certain their course has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located. This information is available at the local VA office.
4. Veterans should complete arrangements for admittance to their school before filing applications with VA.
5. The application for GI training should be completely filled out and signed. It should be sent or taken along with a photostat or certified copy of veteran's separation paper to the VA office at Cumberland or the regional office in Baltimore.
6. The application should go to VA as soon as possible. This will enable VA to iron out any snags before school starts.
7. Veterans with dependents should have the necessary proof of dependency ready when VA requests it. For a wife this would be a certified copy of the public record of marriage, which can be obtained from the clerk of the court which issued the license for the marriage, or a certified copy of the church record of the marriage; for a child a certified copy of the public record of birth, which can be obtained from the

NEW TEACHER—Edward J. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davis of LaVale, will teach sixth grade at Middletown Elementary School in Frederick County. A 1957 graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, he was graduated from LaSalle High School in 1953.

Md. Guardsmen In Final Week Of Encampment

Units Win Top Military Honors

The 29th Infantry Division, Maryland and Virginia National Guard, in summer training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., is prepared for an inspection today by Lt. Gen. Charles E. Hart, Second Army commander.

Gen. Hart will arrive by plane shortly before noon today from his Fort George G. Meade headquarters and will inspect the units in training this afternoon.

With Maj. Gen. Henry C. Evans, division commander, Gen. Hart will visit the 104th Medical Battalion from Baltimore; the 121st Engineer Battalion from Ellicott City; and the 116th Infantry Regiment of Staunton, Va.

Some elements of the division will start for home Friday, concluding their second week of summer training at Indiantown Military Reservation. Cumberland units, Headquarters Company and Company C of the First Battalion, and Frostburg unit, Company D, also of the First Battalion, are expected to arrive home Saturday.

Col. Randolph Millholland, this city, who commands the 115th Infantry Regiment of the 29th Division, saw this unit receive a number of top awards at ceremonies last Saturday.

Company A, 115th Infantry Regiment, of Frederick, Md., Battery D, 129th AAA Battalion, Ononcock, Va., and Battery A, 115th Regiment and Battery D received the National Guard Eisenhower Trophies given annually to a national guard unit in each state for outstanding performance. Battery A received the national guard trophy for the best rifle training group within the division.

Headquarters and headquarters battery of 29th Division Artillery from Pikesville, Md., and Battery C of the 129th AAA Battalion from Portsmouth, Va., received division awards for maintenance efficiency.

Brig. Gen. William C. Purnell, assistant division commander, received a medal for 30 years' service with the guard. Six members of the division were presented 25-year service medals.

Court House Will Observe Long Holiday

Employees at the Allegany County Court House will observe a three-day Labor Day holiday, James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county commissioners, yesterday posted a notice on the Court House door that the building will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Only the janitors will report for work.

Because of the long holiday, any person who wants to be married in Allegany County over the holiday must apply for the license by 4 p. m. today in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

There is a 48-hour waiting period between the application for a marriage license and its issuance. The office will close for the long holiday at 4 p. m. Friday.

Swim Revue Rescheduled

The weatherman hasn't been too considerate of Raymond "Ike" Law's plans to hold a swim revue at the Celanese pool. It was originally planned for last Sunday evening and postponed until tonight but the weather conditions have not been too favorable.

However, he announced last night that the revue, being staged by local and area children who he taught to swim this summer, has been rescheduled for Sunday. The children are asked to assemble at the pool at 6:45 and the "show will go on" at 7:15 p. m. The public is invited.

Firemen Fight Forest Blaze For Six Hours

Dry Weather Heightens Danger

A brush fire which defied efforts to extinguish it for nearly six hours kept South End Fire Company busy yesterday at Fisher's Woods off Oldtown Road.

Meanwhile Central and West Side stations were also kept busy answering numerous other minor alarms while covering for the South End crew.

Firemen said the brush fire was difficult to put out because of the extreme dryness of the area. It burned over 400 square feet of grass and leaves, much of it in small patches, before it was extinguished.

South End answered the alarm at 2:15 p. m. and the day crew was relieved at the scene at 6 o'clock. The firemen didn't check in again at the station until 8 p. m.

Spade Up Ground

The South End crew had to spade up much of the ground and spray it with water as the fire was burning under a six inch covering of leaves and down into the grass and tree roots beneath the ground.

Several hours after responding to the Fisher's Woods alarm South End firemen requested an additional 100 feet of hose and the booster tank from Central to aid in fighting the fire.

Meanwhile, Central answered two other alarms in the South Cumberland sector and West Side's truck and crew came to Fire Headquarters to cover for Central.

The first alarm was about 4:50 p. m. at 966 Glenwood Street where firemen discovered a pile of old rags burning in a rear room of the house.

Assistant Chief Alvey Poole stated that firemen believed some children playing with matches may have started the blaze which partially damaged walls and the ceiling of the room. He added that firemen were able to put out the flames before some paint in the room caught fire.

Debris Ignites

Later, at approximately 8 o'clock, Central answered another alarm at Pennsylvania and Laing avenues where firemen found debris in the foundation of a torn-down house burning. There was little damage.

As the dry weather continued to plague the area with the danger of brush and wood fires mounting daily, LaVale's Volunteer Fire Department extinguished a small grass fire in Narrows Park between Route 40 and the Western Maryland Railway line at the railway bridge across the Narrows.

Fire Chief Bruce Long said 18 men answered the alarm and the fire was put out with water from booster lines. Firemen were out from 5:20 until 6 p. m., he added.

Six Women Get Awards At Amcelle

Six area women employed at the Amcelle plant for the past 25 years have been presented ladies' wrist watches in recognition for their service.

They are: Katherine R. Grahame, Mt. Savage, Elsie M. Jenkins, Barton, Dorothy E. Bowman, RD 5, city, Ruth S. Roy, Valley Road, Jennie M. Beeman, Lonaconing and Mary E. McGowan, Midland.

Miss Grahame, who has been recovering from surgery, was presented her watch by Hudson Nix, personnel manager, at her home. J. A. Hancox, extrusion manufacturing superintendent, also awarded her a gold five-star emblem and certificate during the same visit. She is a yarn inspector and reeler in the spun stores department of extrusion. For many years, she has been an active member of the Catholic Daughters of America in her home town.

Mrs. Jenkins received her watch from Walter N. Hedrick, assistant to the plant manager, and her service award certificate from Byron O. Waite, superintendent of textile manufacturing. She is an operator in the twisting department of textile. Mrs. Jenkins is a widow and the mother of a teen-age son.

Miss Bowman was presented her award watch by R. Finley Thompson, plant manager, and her five-star service pin by Albert D. Kuehn, assistant superintendent of textile manufacturing. Her favorite pastimes are traveling and crocheting. At her own request, she has worked the steady 11 to 7 shift for many years.

The other three employees in the twisting department of the textile manufacturing department were presented watches by Mr. Thompson. Mr. Kuehn joined in honoring them by awarding each the traditional gold five-star Celanese service emblem and certificate.

Mrs. Beeman and Miss McGowan have worked together for 32 years, having been operators on the same shift for seven years at Klotz Throwing Company in Lonaconing prior to their Celanese employment on August 25, 1922. Mrs. Beeman's hobby is making hooked rugs and Miss McGowan is interested in gardening.
